MEDIA POLICY FOR THE 1980 SEASON

PRESS BOX: Accommodations in the press box will be furnished to representatives of Pittsburgh district papers, metropolitan papers filing for Sunday editions, press services, Pittsburgh radio and TV sports commentators, media following the opposing team, and scouts from schools playing either Pitt or its opponents.

Requests should be made in writing to the Sports Information Director in advance, indicating whether or not Sports Com or Cam Fax will be needed. The press gate is Gate #11.

PHOTOGRAPHERS: Sideline passes will be issued to Pittsburgh papers, news services, daily papers normally covering the opposing team, and student publications of the two schools. Color-coded press stickers (a new policy this year) will be issued for each game and MUST be worn at all times. Photographers must stay behind the marked lines to the right and left of the bench area and may not enter the bench area. An officer will be assigned to instruct photographers to stay within designated areas. Failure to comply with the officer will result in loss of photographers' privileges. Space on the photographers' deck is reserved for newspapers in the same manner as field passes, and also for newsreel and game movie cameramen. This space must be requested in advance to insure adequate space. Field photographers should enter Gate #3. Photographers covering from the stands should enter Gate #11.

All credential requests should be directed to:

1980 Outlook

A Potential Powerhouse

Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, is your typical thriving metropolitan center.

It houses mammoth corporate controlling interests, is a large media market and is presently involved in another Renaissance of its downtown area.

But if you're sending a piece of mail and don't have the Zip Code, just address it "City of Champions."

It'll get there.

In light of the accomplishments of the city's sports teams, who can blame the proud, enthusiastic sports fans for pinning that label on their hometown?

But if the tag is to stick, the success will have to perpetuate itself in the 1980's. And the Pitt football program could be ready to do just that.

College football experts think Pitt head coach Jackie Sherrill is sitting on a potential powerhouse this fall. They think the Panthers have a chance at national honors once again.

Since the rebirth of Pitt football in 1973, the program has been highly successful—winning the National Championship in 1976. Since that season, the Panthers have posted a 40-7-1 record which is the fourth best in all of college football. And last year, Sherrill guided his junior-dominated team to an 11-1 record (second best in the school's history), the Fiesta Bowl Championship, the Eastern Championship and a #6 ranking in the polls. With 47 lettermen and 16 starters back, who is to say the experts are wrong?

Right, Jackie?

"Experts don't win National Championships," Sherrill is quick to caution, however. "The football team does . . . on the grass. There's only one champion each year—the team that has the talent, stays free of injuries, has the ball bounce in the right direction and plays one game at a time.

"It's flattering to know people hold you in high regard," Sherrill added, "but if you take the bait and don't prepare that much harder, there's only one direction to go."

Down.

The warning has been sounded.

Gone from last year's squad are 16 lettermen, six starters included. Headlining the returning talent is none other than Mr. All-Everything, Hugh Green (SR, 6-2, 222).

"Hugh Green is the best defensive player in the country," Sherrill exclaimed. "In my opinion, he has been for the past couple of years. Very few people can do what he can do and have done what he has done at his position.

Green received votes in the Heisman Trophy balloting last year. He was one of four finalists in the Lombardi Trophy award, designating the nation's outstanding lineman, and was a consensus All-America pick—his third All-America selection in as many years.

Green is the cornerstone of a defensive front five that has to strike fear into opponents' hearts. Lining up at end opposite Green is Ricky Jackson (SR, 6-2½, 217). Jackson was All-East in 1979. Rounding out that defensive front are All-East tackles Bill Neill (SR, 6-4½, 250) and Academic All-America Greg Meisner (SR, 6-3, 245). Neill and Meisner are three-year lettermen. At middle guard, a man who really came into his own last season, Jerry Boyarsky (SR, 6-3, 275) is back.

"They have played together and they have tasted victory," Sherrill said of his fine group. "They have the will to win and will prepare. Their goals are higher and they know the stakes are higher . . . they are tenacious and they are very physical."

The Pitt defense was 4th in total defense (allowing a miniscule 3.2 yards per play), 5th in scoring defense (allowing a puny 9.6 points per game), and 7th in rushing defense (allowing a meager 2.4 yards per rush) a season ago.

Behind the front five in Pitt's 5-2 alignment is returning regular linebacker Steve Fedell (SR, 6-1½, 230). Next to him will be lettermen to choose from in Mark Reichard (SR, 6-0, 215), Sal Sunseri (JR, 6-1, 222), and special teams performer Ray Lao (SO, 6-2½, 214).

In the secondary, Sherrill needs only a safety—and he may have found him in a very strange place.

In Carlton Williamson (SR, 6-1, 200), Lynn Thomas (SR, 5-11½, 182) and Terry White (SR, 5-10, 180), the 4th-year Pitt head coach has three returning starters. Williamson is set at strong safety, while Thomas and White earned their stripes at cornerback. At safety, Rick Trocano, Pitt's starting QB the past 2½ years, may get the nod. Trocano asked to be moved to safety this spring, and he promptly responded by winning a first-team berth.

Offensively, Sherrill returns the bulk of the unit that set a Pitt all-time single season passing record (2,575 yards) and averaged 214.6 passing yards a game—that's the first time a Pitt team has averaged over 200 passing yards a game in a season.

The strength of that passing game emanates from the quarterback position, where freshman Danny Marino (SO, 6-4, 210) and Trocano (SR, 6-0, 188) hooked up nicely last year. Trocano started the first seven games and had the Panthers at 6-1 before being felled by a hamstringing injury against Navy. Marino stepped in to lead the team to its last five wins, including that 16-10 win over Arizona in the Fiesta Bowl, passing for 1,680 yards and nine touchdowns—the most ever by a Pitt freshman.

Both quarterbacks can be found dotting the Pitt record book: Marino had the 4th best single season passing performance last year, while Trocano, ironically, had the fifth best two years ago (1,648). Career-wise, Trocano is the school's 3rd best passer, while Marino ranks 10th after only one season. Between the two of them, they have accounted for three of Pitt's top 10 single game passing performances. Trocano is also ranked 11th in all-purpose yards for a career and 4th in career total offense (3,340 yards).

Coming in highly touted, Marino got his chance and was ready to make the most of it.

"He distinguished himself," Sherrill said. "He's one of the best young quarterbacks around. He had some help, some good people around him, but I expected him to achieve what he did. There's no denying his talent.

"I think Danny will improve . . . our skilled positions will be greatly improved from last year.

"I think running backs and receivers will be two of our strong points," Sherrill added.

Sherrill has a top receiver in Benjie Pryor (SR, 6-4½, 230) at tight end. Pryor led the team in catches last year with 45 snags for 588 yards and three touchdowns. A third-team All-America choice, Pryor was the only receiver to catch at least one pass in each of the dozen games. Along with Pryor, tight end is well stocked with substitute help in the persons of Mike Dombrowski (SR, 6-3, 218) and Dennis Ballard (SO, 6-3, 235).

At the wide outs, Sherrill returns Julius Dawkins (SO, 6-3, 183) who showed flashes of excellence catching seven passes for an even 100 yards as a freshman. Also back after sitting out a year due to academic difficulty are Larry Sims (SR, 5-11, 182), a converted running back, and Willie Collier (SR, 5-11, 175). Sims has caught 15 career passes for 138 yards while Collier snagged eight tosses for 165 yards two seasons ago.

In Randy "Big Mac Attack" McMillan (SR, 6-1½, 226) the running game boasts a potential superstar. He rushed for 802 yards from the fullback spot—10th best single season in Pitt history—and seemed at his best against the best (Washington and Penn State). He won the ABC-Chevrolet MVP award in the Penn State game. Complementing Big Mac is "Rooster" Jones (SR, 5-9, 183), who has already rushed for 1,091 career yards. Artrell Hawkins (SR, 5-9, 176), Bryan Thomas (SO, 5-10, 188) and Ricky Asberry (SO, 6-2, 210), along with two Parade All-America recruits, will vie for playing time with Jones. Wayne DiBartola (SR, 5-11, 212) and Steve Harris (SR, 6-2, 210) are behind McMillan.

Which brings us to Mark May (SR, 6-6, 282) & Company on the offensive line.

"The right side of the line, May and Emil Boures (JR, 6-3, 255) is intact," Sherrill noted. "We feel good knowing Russ Grimm (SR, 6-3, 250) will line up beside them too."

May, who looks like he could carry the load of the world across his huge shoulders, was an honorable mention All-America last season. He is a legitimate Outland Trophy and All-America candidate this year. Not once last season did the man pass-blocked by May lay a hand on a Pitt quarterback. Boures eased into the starting job in mid-season after overcoming some minor injury problems. Sophomore lettermen Ron Sams (SO, 6-5, 255) and Robert Fada (SO, 6-3, 245) will provide depth.

Dave Trout (SR, 5-6, 162), who did both punting and placekicking in 1979, will make the loss of ace Mark Schubert easier to bear. His kickoffs into the endzone should also prove to be a valuable weapon.

It looks like the Panthers have the talent for a banner year. They COULD add another feather in the cap of the "City of Champions."

If they heed Sherrill's warning to beware and prepare, that is.

Questions & Answers

Jackie Sherrill Speaks Out

The sky had turned blue . . . the air warm . . . and Jackie Sherrill was in a somewhat thoughtful mood. It was a good time to talk football. The following are some questions put forth to Jackie and his responses . . .

Q. Jackie, what kind of a football team will Pitt have in 1980?

A. We will obviously be a senior-dominated football team. We have 28 seniors out of the 30 recruited four years ago. Our fellows have been together for four years. They've played well together; they've molded together; they have a lot of compassion for one another—a lot of understanding, and I think they'll do what it takes. I have, however, seen senior-dominated teams that have gone the other way. What we have to be concerned about are the distractions that are there—distractions from pro scouts and outside people who exert more pressure than they should—which can adversely affect a team's performance. We're just looking for our players to demonstrate the spirit and determination that they've shown in the past, and we hope they'll be as hungry this year as they were a year ago.

Q. Are there some positions on your team, Jackie, that could be drastically affected by injuries?

A. Well, I think any football team today with a 95-limit has to be aware that injuries to key positions can surely affect the outcome of a team. I believe that for any team to be successful, it is essential that these key positions remain injury-free. Some of our positions have depth and others don't. In my opinion, winning—in large part—depends on how healthy your team remains.

Q. This team has been ranked pretty highly in pre-season ratings. What are your feelings about the pressure of having this nationally-ranked team?

A. I think that any young man looking to play collegiate football today is also looking to go to a school that has a first-rate program. He knows beforehand that there's going to be pressure in such a situation and, if he weren't looking for it, he'd seek another school to attend. For instance, any student athlete who goes to Alabama or Ohio State . . . or to Notre Dame, maybe Southern Cal or Penn State, is aware of the pressure and competition that comes with a fine program. There's also the added pressure of people wanting you to be number 1—and there might be some negative aspects to that. But surely, the biggest thing is that not everyone can get a chance to participate in a program that's nationally respected or recognized, and any young man who looks for and finds that opportunity is not surprised at the pressure that accompanies it.

Q. Do you see any new trends developing in college football?

A. College football in the 80's will undergo some real dramatic changes. The trend right now is back to a more physical game. You're going to see more pro type teams where the ball is going to be thrown. And instead of seeing a finesse team which runs the option to get the ball outside with speed, we'll be witnessing a more physical game on the line. There's no doubt that because of the bigger, stronger young men of today, the game is undergoing substantial changes. I would say that probably the greatest difference in football today, as compared with that of 15 or 20 years ago, is that our kids are so physical.

Q. Who do you think the top teams will be in 1980?

A. Well, going across the country—the Pac 10—Southern Cal, UCLA, Washington; the Big 8—Oklahoma, Nebraska; the Southeast Conference—Alabama, Georgia, Tennessee; Southwest Conference—Texas, Houston, Texas A & M, Arkansas; the ACC—North Carolina, Clemson, Maryland; and the Independents—Pitt, Notre Dame, Penn State, Florida State.

Q. What about if you had to pick 5?

A. Well, the top five I'd pick right now would be Ohio State, Alabama, Oklahoma, Southern Cal and us . . . and not necessarily in that order.

Q. Do you think Hugh Green is a legitimate candidate for the Heisman Trophy?

A. Yes, Hugh Green is a definite candidate for the Heisman Trophy. Hugh has exhibited more talent and ability over the last three years than any other football player I can think of. That's not to say that there aren't other players who have played outstanding football. There are many athletes who have had maybe one or two great years . . . but Hugh, well, he's played consistently with an extraordinary blend of power, versatility and quickness every year since he came to Pitt as a freshman. In his position, I personally think he's the best that's ever played the game.

Q. How good can your defense be in 1980?

A. Well, if the free safety position comes to be and if we can stay healthy and get our younger people to come in and give us depth . . . and if our linebackers give us the play that we need, I think it's safe to say we'll have a very good defensive team. Up front, the down five people have been together for a long time and they are a great group of players.

Q. Offensively, Jackie, what are you going to try to do this year?

A. Well, the biggest thing today in offense is that you need to think about staying ahead of the game . . . you've got to plan and develop a strategy that prevents you from finding yourself in a situation where you only have one choice. It's usually in a bad situation when it's second . . . or third . . . and long . . . and you have to come up with the big play. While we have to be consistent, we must also have flexibility . . . and offensively, through different offensive sets or motion or movement in the backfield, we should be able to dictate somewhat to the defensive people and get them out of long-yardage situations.

Q. How about talking briefly about Mark May and Benjie Pryor?

A. Well, Mark is one of those dependable young men who has played extremely well and certainly figured prominently in our successes. He has enormous talent and amazing maturity. He performs with confidence, has great skill and has surely been a credit to the game. This could be the most fulfilling year for him and if he plays up to our expectations, then there will be very few in the country better than he is. . . . About our tight end, Benjie Pryor . . . well, we went to him quite a bit last year. He caught 45 passes for us. There's no doubt in my mind that he has a chance to become a top receiver as a tight end. His ability as a blocker, as well as a passer, makes him an unusually fine tight end.

Q. Do you expect Danny Marino this year or someplace down the line to be among the nation's best quarterbacks?

A. Well, right now he's probably the best at his age, but he has to improve each year. He has the ability, the vigor and swiftness that generates excitement on the field. Of course, a quarterback that you consider good is usually one who has great supportive talent around him . . . and Danny's got the people around him to help him realize his potential.

Q. What changes, if any, would you like to see in college football?

A. Well, I would advocate changing the negative attitudes that have been creeping into college football. Those of us who love the game of football also value the basic fundamentals of good sportsmanship, and the ideals that the game stands for. Football down through the years has provided our young people with opportunities of getting an education that they couldn't otherwise afford. It's helped build our education system, and more people should be made aware of that. It's unfortunate that in recent times, collegiate football has received very bad publicity. This bothers me a great deal and makes it hard sometimes to function effectively. Oh, I'm not saying that problems don't exist. There are isolated cases, but these exceptions are few and far between. The tendency now should be to publicize the good things and to look ahead to the future.

Q. Does the fact that you share the city with the Pirates and Steelers help or hinder your programs?

A. I think ours is a unique situation. The relationship we have with the Pirates and Steelers goes beyond sharing the same city. You could characterize our association as one of individuals to individuals . . . and team to team. There's a mutual respect and concern that would be hard to find anywhere else. There's a camaraderie—a kind of healthiness in the way they help us—especially our younger players. Well, I just don't think you can find this kind of vitality and interaction any place else in this country. Our athletes have the advantage of being around some of the best players in pro football. They come and use our facilities. It's not unusual for Mike Webster to drop in and use our weight room and work out with our players; Dwight White, J. T. Thomas, Greg Hawthorne, Franco Harris—they have a lot of influence that rubs off. Listen, these guys come from the 'City of Champions' . . . and that's just what they are—Champs, in every sense of the word.

Q. Would you like to predict your record for this year?

A. No. We'll show up for every kickoff.

Dr. Wesley W. Posvar, Chancellor

When Dr. Posvar was named Chancellor of the University of Pittsburgh in June, 1967, the University already boasted a treasured academic and athletic tradition.

In his thirteen years as Chancellor, Dr. Posvar has further enhanced the University's national and international reputation—both academically and athletically.

In the same symbolic manner in which the Cathedral of Learning stands tall against the graceful Oakland skyline, Pitt excels as an athletic power. In 1976, the Pitt football team won the National Championship becoming the sixth all-time leader in National Collegiate Football Championships. Attesting to its academic excellence the University is a member of the Association of American Universities (AAU), a select organization of the nation's most respected graduate and research universities. Both of these achievements underscore the University's continuing quest for excellence in both academics and athletics.

A former college athlete who believes a strong athletic program should complement a high quality academic experience, Dr. Posvar has earned the reputation as "Pitt's #1 Sports Fan."

Born in Topeka, Kansas, Dr. Posvar is an engineering graduate of the United States Military Academy in West Point, graduating first in his class. A Rhodes Scholar at Oxford, he earned Masters Degrees in Philosophy, Politics, and Economics. At Harvard, he received an M.A. in Public Administration, and a Ph.D. in Political Science. He was named one of the Ten Most Outstanding Young Men by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. Posvar served on the strategic planning staff at the Pentagon, and was head of the 120-man social sciences division at the United States Air Force Academy before his appointment as Chancellor.

Dr. Posvar has also accumulated several athletic awards, among them "Sportsman of the Year" by the Allegheny County Civic Sportsmen Association, and was the recipient of the Contribution to Amateur Athletics Award by the Pittsburgh Chapter of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame.

His wife sings professionally as Mildred Miller, a mezzo-soprano who is internationally acclaimed as a recording artist and Leider singer. An active civic leader, she is the founder and Artistic Director of the Pittsburgh Chamber Opera Theater—the touring and educational adjunct of the Pittsburgh Opera.

The Posvars have three children: Wesley, Jr., Marina and Lisa.

Casimir J. Myslinski, Director of Athletics

Since he was named Director of Athletics by Chancellor Posvar in 1968, Cas Myslinski has thoroughly and at times spectacularly, restructured the University of Pittsburgh's Athletic Department.

Forceful, yet quiet, Myslinski has sparkled as the administrative man behind the scene, setting the policy and choosing the priorities that have led to the dramatic athletic turnaround. He promised to bring the Pitt athletic teams back to "the heights they deserve" when he was hired, and the winning figures say he has fulfilled that pledge.

Panther athletic teams have recorded eleven consecutive winning years since Myslinski's arrival, registering a .620 winning percentage in the process.

The winning has been highlighted by six football bowl trips, a football national championship, three basketball tournament teams and 41 All-Americans.

Myslinski has also been a leader in implementing a dynamic women's program at the University, which continues to be one of the fastest growing and most successful in the nation. In six years, the women have won over 70 per cent of their competition.

One of his first achievements as Director of Athletics was uniting several contributing bodies to the athletic program into one, founding the now thriving Pitt Golden Panthers Booster Club. The Club raised over $450,000 this past year.

After an accelerated three-year high school curriculum, he entered West Point in September of 1941 as part of the last pre-World War II class. He again undertook an accelerated academic program because of the war and in that stepped-up program graduated in three years with a B.S. in engineering. He also earned pilot wings. Later he received a Masters in Education from Teachers College, Columbia University.

At West Point, he distinguished himself on the football field. He captained the 1943 Army team and was voted the Most Valuable Player that year. He was named to every first team All-America Squad at center and garnered the Knute Rockne Award as the Nation's Outstanding Lineman.

Following West Point graduation in 1944 he entered the Air Force.

In 1952 he returned to West Point as Deputy Head of the Department of Physical Education and moved from there in 1956 to head the Department of Physical Education at the United States Air Force Academy and to be an assistant football coach under Buck Shaw (1957).

Then Dr. Posvar summoned him to Pitt.

Married, he and his wife, Sandy, have four children: Linda (Mrs. John Baginski), Michael (wife—Loraine Sujdak), Dorothy (Mrs. Brian Gracey), and Patricia (Mrs. George Jacoby). Patricia is the mother of the two Myslinski grandchildren, Brandon and Brooke.

PANTHER HEAD FOOTBALL COACH

JACKIE SHERRILL

In just three seasons, Jackie Sherrill has emerged as one of the most successful head football coaches in all of college football.

His Pitt teams have gone 28-7-1 for a remarkable .777 winning percentage and three consecutive bowl games. Twice his Panthers have finished the season ranked 6th in the country by the polls. And last year, his team finished 11-1, was ranked 6th in the polls, won the Eastern Championship and beat Arizona 16-10 in the Fiesta Bowl. He was named Eastern Coach-of-the-Year by the New York Press Writers Association.

At 36, Sherrill is one of the youngest coaches in the land. But already his record speaks for itself, and it says Sherrill has taken his rightful place in a city that bills itself the "City of Champions."

Sherrill is no new kid on the block of success. The man has had phenomenal success with football, dating back to his scholastic days at Biloxi High School in Mississippi. At every level, up the ladder, he has been a big winner.

At Biloxi he was a High School All-America. At Alabama he played vital roles on teams that won two National Championships (1964 and 1965) and played in three major bowls.

Since turning to coaching 13 years ago, teams that Jackie Sherrill has been associated with have gone to bowls eight times: at Alabama in 1966 when he was a graduate assistant; at Iowa State in 1971 and 1972 when he was Assistant Head Coach; at Pitt in 1973 and 1975 when he was Assistant Head Coach; and at Pitt again as the Head Coach in 1977, 1978, and 1979.

An unbelievable testimonial to his success is this fact: since Sherrill first stepped on the Biloxi High School football field as a freshman, to last year's Fiesta Bowl win over Arizona, his combined win/loss record as a player and coach is 169 wins, 74 losses and five ties. That's a winning percentage of .681.

Sherrill first arrived on the Pitt scene in 1973 as Assistant Head Coach on the Johnny Majors staff that authored the resurgence of Pitt football.

Since 1973, Pitt has recorded a 61-20-2 record and Sherrill has seen 49 of those wins. Since 1973, Pitt has played in six bowl games and Sherrill has been there for five of them: the 1973 Fiesta Bowl; the 1975 Sun Bowl; the 1977 Gator Bowl; the 1978 Tangerine Bowl; and the 1979 Fiesta Bowl.

Overall, as a player and coach, Sherrill has been to 13 bowl games: as a player he went to the 1962 Orange, the 1963 and 1964 Sugar and the 1965 Orange Bowl; as a Coach he has been to the 1966 Orange, the 1971 Sun, the 1972 Liberty, the 1973 Fiesta, the 1975 Sun, the 1977 Gator, 1978 Tangerine, and the 1979 Fiesta Bowl.

With his 28 wins he has established himself as Pitt's all-time winningest first 3-year coach, among names that are legendary in college football history; Pop Warner won 25 games in his first three years at Pitt; John Majors 21; Jock Sutherland 18; and John Michelosen 18.

After three years as Majors' top assistant, Sherrill was named head coach at Washington State and, though his record was 3-8, he did a commendable job. He took a downtrodden Washington State program and turned it into a competitive one in the rugged Pacific 10 Conference after only one year.

And, in December of 1976, Sherrill was called to sustain the Pitt program that was coming off the National Championship season. Majors left to take the Tennessee job, and the Pitt administration has been rewarded with its choice of Sherrill.

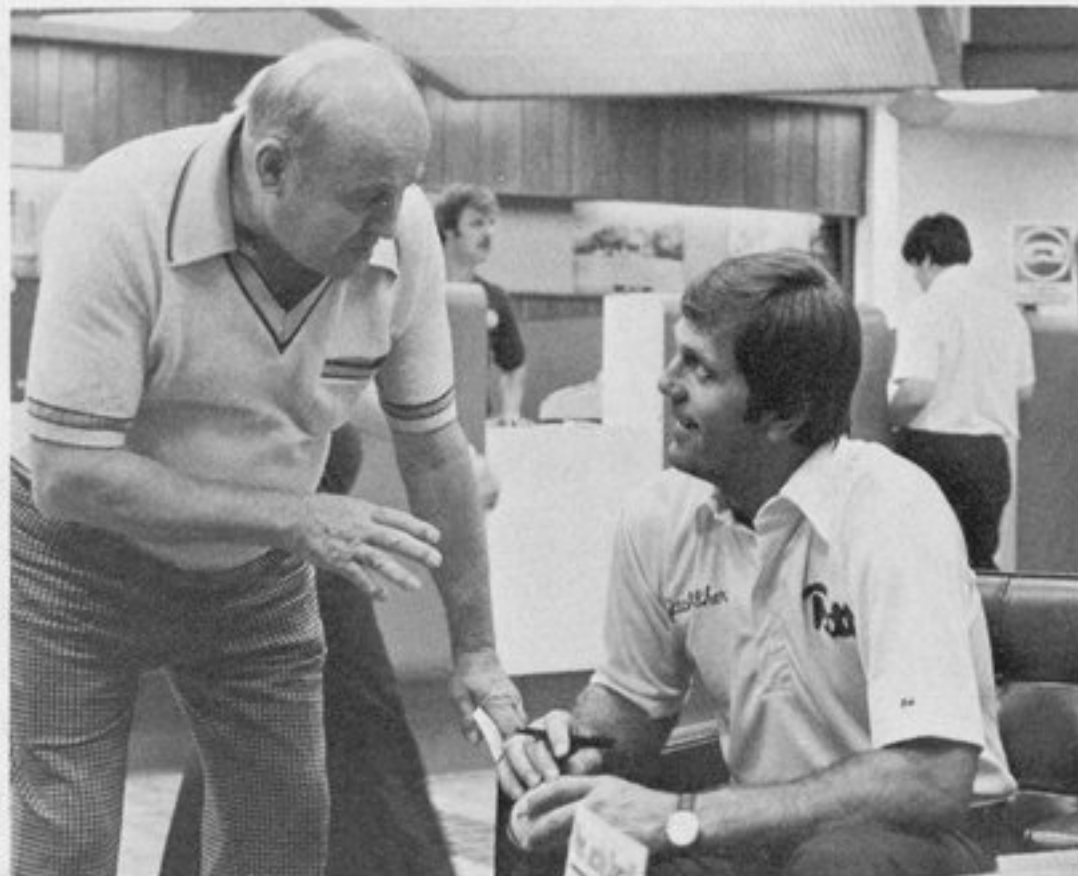

He took Pitt to a 9-2-1 record, the Gator Bowl championship and a fine #6 ranking in the final polls in 1977. With a sophomore-laden team in 1978, Sherrill guided them to an 8-4 record and an appearance in the Tangerine Bowl.

And then there was last year.

After graduation from Biloxi High School, where his picture hangs in the Hall of Fame, he enrolled at Alabama where he was a three-year letterman and played seven positions for Bear Bryant's Crimson Tide. At Alabama he played with Joe Namath, Steve Sloan and Ken Stabler, and was a member of the 1964 and 1965 National Championship teams.

Following his Alabama graduation, Sherrill served one year as graduate assistant and worked with the freshmen and the varsity linebackers under Bryant. He then moved with Frank Broyles at Arkansas in 1967 and worked the defense and with the secondary. He joined Majors at Iowa State in the 1968 off-season and was promoted to Assistant Head Coach in 1971, after serving as Defensive Coordinator in 1970. Then he followed Majors to Pitt.

Sherrill has served under three top head coaches as an assistant—Bryant, Broyles and Majors, three of the big ones in the college coaching profession. A masterful recruiter, Sherrill was mainly responsible for luring Heisman Trophy winner Tony Dorsett to Pitt . . . but, more recently, has recruited blue chippers like Hugh Green and Danny Marino.

Along with the pursuit of his coaching interests, Sherrill has taken a deep-rooted interest in the city that he now happily calls home—Pittsburgh.

He says Pittsburgh is part of him now and his involvement in the community attests to that.

In the three short years he has been the Pitt head coach, he has made as much impact on the community as he has made with his football team. He is on the Board of Directors of the Leukemia Society of Pittsburgh. This year, he sponsored (along with the Grand Olds Gang) the Jackie Sherrill Leukemia Open at Oakmont Country Club to raise funds for the Western Pennsylvania Chapter of the Leukemia Society of America. Big name coaches from across the country participated in this fund raising event which raised over $30,000.

Also a member of the Board of Directors of the Boys Club, Sherrill has worked on fund raising campaigns for WQED-TV (educational TV), the Civic Light Opera, Multiple Sclerosis, Cystic Fibrosis and the United Way.

His love for children makes him a frequent visitor at Children's Hospital of Pittsburgh, which is only one block away from his office at Pitt Stadium. In each of the last three bowl trips, Sherrill has escorted Pitt players to visit unfortunate youngsters in children's hospitals. Also a Shriner, Sherrill toured the Shriner crippled children hospitals across the country in 1977.

This year he is Honorary Chairperson of the Allegheny County Complete Count Committee of the 1980 Census.

Foge Fazio

Wally English

Serafino "Foge" Fazio

Assistant Head Coach, Defensive Coordinator

Serafino "Foge" Fazio has the distinction of being the only Pitt graduate on the present coaching staff—he played for the Panther football team from 1957-60. He joined Jackie Sherrill's Pitt staff in 1977, but was previously on the Pitt coaching staff in 1969-72 under Carl DePasqua. A Pittsburgh-area (Coraopolis) native, Foge was ALL-WPIAL center and linebacker at Coraopolis High School and was the starting center at Pitt in 1959 . . . was named team MVP, All-East, and honorable mention All-America—he also played in the North-South All-Star Game and the All-America Bowl. He was a fifth round draft choice of the Boston Patriots and played linebacker there for a year.

As defensive coordinator at the University of Cincinnati in 1976, his team was ranked fifth in scoring defense, ninth in rushing defense and eleventh in total defense in the final NCAA statistics.

Said Coach Jackie Sherrill: "It made sense to name "Foge" defensive coordinator and assistant head coach because his background in football has been excellent. He has had all the responsibilities. He has been a head high school coach, an assistant in college, a defensive coordinator and is an excellent recruiter. His accomplishments speak for themselves. And, he gets along very well with his athletes. In addition, he's brought a lot of people back to Pitt since his return—people he knew and played with—and that has meant a lot to us."

Coaching Experience: HIGH SCHOOL—Ambridge, PA, 1963-74; Coraopolis, PA, 1965-66; COLLEGE—Pitt, Graduate Assistant, 1962; Boston University, 1967; Harvard, 1968; Pitt, 1969-72; Cincinnati, 1973-76; joined the current Pitt staff in December 1977.

Personal Information: Date of Birth: 2/28/39. Hometown: Diamont, West Virginia. Alma Mater: Pitt, 1960. Married to the former Norma Popovich and the father of Kristen (12) and Vincent (9).

Wally English

Offensive Coordinator, Quarterbacks

Wally English has had an interesting relationship with the quarterback position ever since he was a high school player. At Flaget High School in Louisville, English was a teammate of Paul Hornung of Green Bay Packer fame. Hornung and English would both line up under center as quarterbacks and sprint in opposite directions at the snap of the ball. Needless to say, they confused the defense with their bizarre formation.

English has coached some of the nation's leading quarterbacks. In 1972, he coached Don Strock of Virginia Tech who was the NCAA's leading passer and total offense leader. At Brigham Young, English coached Mark Wilson who led the NCAA in passing in 1978. English also coached David Humm at Nebraska when the Cornhuskers ranked 10th in the nation. Pitt's Dan Marino has the potential to be the third leading passer coached by English in a short five-year span.

He played quarterback for the Louisville Raiders of the Continental League for one season following his graduation from Louisville. The Continental League was the forerunner of the National Football League.

Coach Jackie Sherrill said, "Wally is one reason I think we have one of the best offensive staffs in the country. He has impressive credentials and a wide range of coaching experience."

Quarterbacks are abundant in the English family. His son Jon, along with Pitt's Dan Marino, was one of the nation's best high school quarterbacks two years ago. Jon now plays for Michigan State. Steve will play quarterback for Indiana University this year. Dan will carry on the quarterbacking traditional at Central Catholic High School, and Tom is a quarterback in the seventh grade.

Coaching Experience: HIGH SCHOOL—Bishop David, 1963; Mt. Carmel, 1964. COLLEGE—Kentucky, 1965-68, QB Coach and Offensive Coordinator; Arkansas, 1970, Assistant Offensive Line Coach; Virginia Tech, 1971-72, Offensive Coordinator; Nebraska, 1973, Assistant Offensive Coach; Brigham Young, 1978, Offensive Coordinator, PRO FOOTBALL—New Orleans Saints, 1969, Personnel Scout; Detroit Lions, 1974-77, Offensive Back Coach. Joined the Pitt staff on January 1, 1979, from Brigham Young University.

Personal Information: Date of Birth: 6/28/39. Hometown: Louisville, KY. Alma Mater: Louisville 1960. Married to the former Peggy Karem and father of Jon (19), Steve (18), Dan (14), and Tom (11).

Joe Daniels

Ron Dickerson

Bob Matey

Joe Daniels, Running Backs

Joe Daniels, a Pittsburgh native, coached Pitt opponents for the last 12 years before joining the Pitt staff this year. Daniels replaced Joe Pendry on the Pitt staff, who moved to Michigan State as Offensive Coordinator in February after a two-yr stint at Pitt.

On the college coaching level, Daniels was a quarterback coach at West Virginia where WVU's fine signal caller, Oliver Luck, was under his guidance. Before joining the West Virginia Staff, Daniels spent 10 years as an assistant coach at Boston College. There he coached quarterbacks from 1975-77 and receivers from 1968-74. Two of his products at BC are Mike Kruczek and Kenny Smith.

Coach Jackie Sherrill said, "I'm delighted that Joe was able to join our staff. He has a solid background in college coaching, and I think he will blend in well with the current staff."

Coaching Experience: HIGH SCHOOL—Bishop McCort, Johnstown, 1964-66. COLLEGE—East Stroudsburg, 1966, Graduate Assistant; New Hampshire 1967-68, Freshman Coach; Boston College, 1968-77, Quarterbacks and Receivers; West Virginia, 1977-79, Quarterbacks.

Personal Information: Date of Birth: 11/15/42. Hometown: Bethel Park, PA. Alma Mater: Slippery Rock '64; East Stroudsburg '66. Married to the former Kathy Hampton.

Ron Dickerson, Defensive Backs

A native of Coraopolis, Pennsylvania, Ron Dickerson viewed his Pitt coaching position as an opportunity to return "home." Following graduation from Coraopolis High School, Dickerson was a standout defensive back at Kansas State. He earned three football letters at K-State and broke the school record for interception return yardage. He played in the East-West Shrine game, the American Bowl and the College All-Star game. In 1971, Dickerson played for the Miami Dolphins before turning to coaching.

Dickerson followed former Louisville coach Vince Gibson from Kansas State to the University of Louisville in 1975. As an assistant coach at Louisville, Dickerson directed the Louisville chapter of Fellowship of Christian Athletes and continues that interest at Pitt.

"Ron is one of the bright, young assistants in the country," said Coach Jackie Sherrill. "He was an outstanding athlete and has the reputation of being a well-rounded person. His activities with the Fellowship of Christian Athletes speak well of him. He has been a fine influence on our young athletes."

Coaching Experience: COLLEGE—Kansas State, 1972-75, defensive backs; Louisville, 1975-77, defensive backs. Joined the Pitt staff in January of 1977.

Personal Information: Date of Birth: 7/2/48. Hometown: Coraopolis, PA. Alma Mater: Kansas State. Married to the former Jeannie Morgan and father of Ron, Jr. (9) and Rashwan (5).

Bob Matey, Defensive Line

Bob Matey was All-City for two years at Youngstown's Chaney High School as a fullback. There he was All-Northeast Ohio and honorable mention All-State.

At Iowa State he was the smallest Big 8 middle guard in his playing days, but he was also the quickest. He was one of Jackie Sherrill's star performers when Sherrill was Defensive Coordinator at Iowa State. Matey was a starter on the 1971 Iowa State Sun squad.

Coach Jackie Sherrill said, "Bob was one of the most dedicated players I've ever seen. I've watched him develop since he was a freshman in college." Matey and "Foge" Fazio have been on the Pitt staff longer than any other current staff member.

Matey has been instrumental in bringing John, Jeff and Jay Pelusi to Pitt along with former quarterback great Matt Cavanaugh with whom he resides in Pittsburgh. He and his basset hound, Doogan, are inseparable, and his cooking exploits with tacos and chili give him a "hot" reputation as a culinary genius.

Coaching Experience: COLLEGE—Iowa State, Graduate Assistant, 1972; Pitt Scouting Coordinator, weight program, 1978. Joined Pitt staff in December, 1972.

Personal Information: Date of Birth: 8/19/50. Hometown: Youngstown, OH. Alma Mater: Iowa State '72. Single. Children: None, unless you count basset hound Doogan (7).

Joe Moore

Joe Naunchik

Ray Zingler

Joe Moore, Offensive Line

Coach Jackie Sherrill plucked Joe Moore right out of high school coaching four years ago, where he was one of Western Pennsylvania's most successful scholastic coaches.

In 17 years of high school coaching, Moore compiled a 119-32-4 record. His 1974-75 Upper St. Clair teams were both co-champions in the WPIAL. Moore's Upper St. Clair teams didn't lose in their last 36 games and only tied twice.

Joe graduated from Schenley High School which is just a few minutes away from the Pitt campus. He earned a Masters Degree in Counseling from Gannon College.

Coach Sherrill said, "Joe has done an excellent job at Pitt from day one, especially in the Pennsylvania recruiting. He has excellent rapport with the players and does an excellent job coaching them."

Coaching Experience: HIGH SCHOOL—Richfield Springs, NY, 1959-60; Towanda, PA, 1961-62; McDowell (Erie) 1963-71; Upper St. Clair, 1972-75. Joined Pitt staff in December, 1976 from Upper St. Clair High School.

Personal Information: Date of Birth: 2/19/32. Hometown: Pittsburgh, PA. Alma Mater: Penn State '58. Married to the former Frances Gaskill and father of Joe (21), John (18), James (13).

Joe Naunchik, Receivers

Joe Naunchik has coached at both the high school and college levels. At Valley High School, his team won three Keystone Conference championships. Later he served as Head Coach at Plum Boro High School where he stayed for nine years before coming to Pitt in March of 1979.

In his four years of high school coaching, Naunchik compiled an overall record of 33-3-1. John Garcia, the starting linebacker at West Virginia, was one of Naunchik's star players at Valley.

Naunchik was a fine athlete in his own right. At Arizona State, he was a running back under the legendary Frank Kush. His personal athletic prowess shifted from football to baseball when Joe played minor league baseball for the Pittsburgh Pirates for three years before earning his degree at Fairmont State in 1962.

Coach Jackie Sherrill said, "Joe did an outstanding job last year with the receivers and proved to be a fine on-the-field coach. He is also an excellent recruiter."

Coaching Experience: HIGH SCHOOL—Valley, 1965-67, Offensive and Defensive Backs; Fox Chapel, 1968-69, Offensive and Defensive Backs; Plum, 1970-79, Head Coach. COLLEGE—Susquehanna, 1967-68, Offensive and Defensive Backs.

Personal Information: Date of Birth: 6/22/38. Hometown: Plum Boro, PA. Alma Mater: Fairmont State '62. Married to the former Terry Abraham and father of Joey (6) and Daniel (4).

Ray Zingler, Defensive Ends

As a head coach at three high schools in New Jersey, Ray Zingler registered a successful 84-21 record. His teams won championships three times and one year led the State of New Jersey in scoring. Three recent high school players who played under him have gone on to college football. Glenn Howard, Chester Cooper (Minnesota) and Pitt's own Russell Carter have made it to the collegiate level in football.

In his playing days (1952-57), Ray was a quarterback and a defensive back. He once played with All-America Earl Lindley (1954), a running back at Utah State, who led the nation in scoring.

The Zinglers have their share of football players too. Ray's son Chuck, a former defensive back at Navy, is now a commissioned naval officer. Gary is a quarterback at the Marine Military Academy. Greg attends the U.S. Naval Academy.

"Ray is a definite asset to us," said Coach Jackie Sherrill. "For over 20 years he has been a solid coach in every respect. He has been very successful and has accumulated a wealth of knowledge. In the short time he has been here he has already gained the respect of the players and all the Pitt people."

Coaching Experience: HIGH SCHOOL—Paulsboro, 1960-68, Head Coach; Westwood, 1969-71, Head Coach; Pemberton, 1972-75, Head Coach; Paulsboro, 1975-78, Head Coach. COLLEGE—Kansas State, 1957, Graduate Assistant; Trenton State College, 1975, Defensive Backs; Minnesota, 1978, Receivers. Joined Pitt staff in January, 1979 from Minnesota.

Personal Information: Date of Birth: 8/24/34. Hometown: Nutley, NJ. Alma Mater: Utah State '57, Kansas State '58. Married to the former Carol Goodman and father of Valerie, Chuck, Greg, Gary and Sharon.

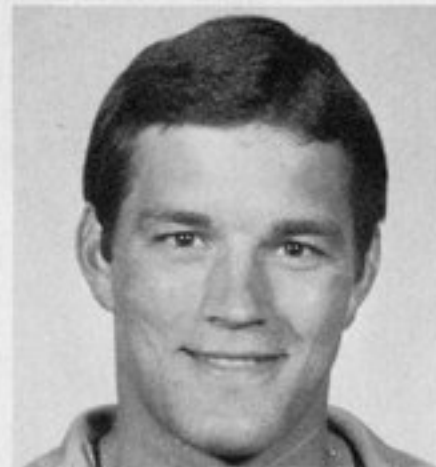

PART-TIME ASSISTANT COACHES

Nick Rapone

Bob Davie

Kirk Ferentz

Nick Rapone Part-Time Assistant

Nick Rapone has been on the Pitt staff since March of 1979 as a part-time assistant coach.

Before coming to Pitt, Rapone played strong safety under Coaches Jimmy Sharpe and Bill Dooley at Virginia Tech.

"Nick has done an outstanding job as a member of our staff, while he finishes work on his Masters Degree," said Coach Jackie Sherrill. "He has contributed a great deal, in a wide range of areas. Nick is an excellent young coach with a bright future."

Coaching Experience: COLLEGE—joined the Pitt staff in March, 1979 as a part-time assistant coach.

Personal Information: Date of Birth: 4/25/56. Hometown: New Castle, PA. Alma Mater: Virginia Tech 1979. Married to the former Mary Daly.

Bob Davie Part-Time Assistant

Yes, Bob Davie was at the Fiesta Bowl last season. He could be spotted on the sideline. The Arizona Wildcat sideline, that is. Davie served as a full-time PAC 10 Coach as Defensive End Coach and Defensive Coordinator at Arizona from 1978 to 1979. He signed nine recruits there in 1978 and eight in 1979.

A 1976 Youngstown State graduate, Davie was also a part of the Pitt coaching staff in the past. In 1977 he was a Graduate Assistant for the Panthers.

Coach Sherrill said, "We are very fortunate for Bob to return to the Pitt staff. His full-time coaching experience in the PAC 10 will be very beneficial."

Coaching Experience: COLLEGE—Pitt, 1977, Graduate Assistant; Arizona, 1978-79, Defensive Ends and Defensive Coordinator.

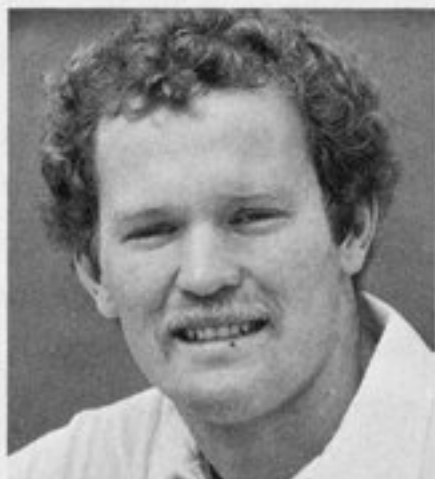

Personal Information: Date of Birth: 9/30/54. Hometown: Coraopolis, PA. Alma Mater: Youngstown State '76. Married to the former Joanne Fratangelo.

Kirk Ferentz Part-Time Assistant

The newest addition to the Pitt staff is Kirk Ferentz, a part-time assistant coach. Kirk's link to the Pitt staff is offensive line coach Joe Moore, who coached Kirk at Upper St. Clair High School, where Ferentz was a fullback and linebacker for Moore in 1973.

At the University of Connecticut, Ferentz captained the 1978 squad, before serving as a graduate assistant coach of linebackers and defensive ends under Coach Walt Nadzak at Connecticut. He then went on to teach English and coach the offensive line and linebackers at Worcester (Massachusetts) Academy from 1979-80.

Kirk is married to the former Mary Hart.

Tom Connors

Tom Connors Head Equipment Manager

Tom Connors, who has been directly and indirectly associated with the Pitt athletic program since he was seven years old, begins his third year as Head Equipment Manager at Pitt.

Tom's relationship with Pitt goes back to his childhood days when his Dad brought him to work at Pitt. His father, "Boo", was the head equipment man at Pitt for 25 years.

Tom has learned to handle such a large operation at such a young age (25 years old) from working with three of the most knowledgeable equipment people in the business—his father, Tony Parisi of the Steelers, and Jack Hart, formerly of the Steelers.

Connors' duties include maintaining equipment supplies, equipment distribution and supervision of the locker room area and field.

Tom is presently Director of District 2 Athletic Equipment Managers Association and for two years has been camp director for the Western Pennsylvania High School All-Star games.

Before becoming Head Equipment Manager at Pitt, Tom served as his father's assistant, and periodically assisted the Pittsburgh Steelers from 1969 to 1975.

Tom is single and resides in Oakland.

Glenn Burdick Assistant Equipment Manager

Glenn Burdick will serve as Assistant Equipment Manager for the Pitt Panther football team. Glenn was a student manager for two years. His responsibilities include operation of the equipment room and instruction of the student managers. Glenn is a native of Fox Chapel.

Glenn Burdick

Dr. Richard Ray

The Medical Care of Panther Athletes

Dr. James McMaster

The Pitt Panthers receive superior medical care provided by the University Division of Sports Medicine, under the direction of Dr. James H. McMaster, Director of the Department of Orthopedic Surgery of Allegheny General Hospital and Dr. Richard L. Ray, Team Physician and orthopedic surgeon.

In addition to its physicians, the Division of Sports Medicine boasts a highly qualified staff of certified trainers. Kip Smith is the head football trainer, assisted by Francis Feld. Tony Incorvaia is the basketball trainer and works with the Field House sports. Peggy Trippel heads up the athletic training responsibilities for the women's sports program and David Perrin coordinates the athletic training education curriculum. Perrin also works with the wrestling team.

Under the supervision of Doctors Ray and McMaster, the Division of Sports Medicine has sponsored a daily sports medicine clinic over the past nine years, where Pitt varsity athletes are examined and treated. In addition to Ray and McMaster are more than a dozen consultants from various departments of the medical school, who provide comprehensive coverage to the more than 600 male and female varsity athletes and other students in the huge intramural and recreational programs.

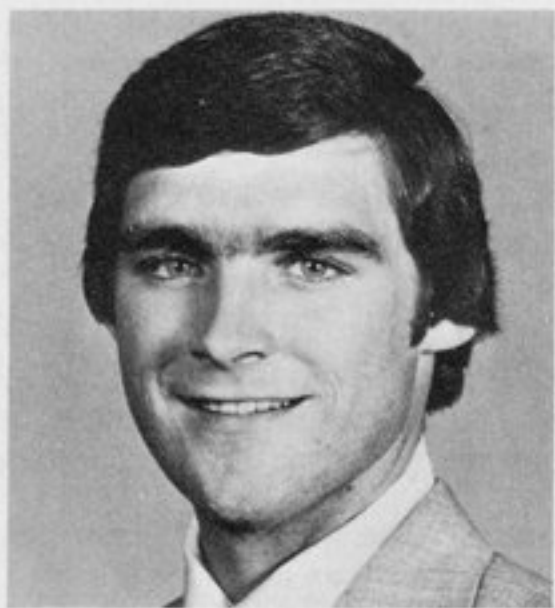

The University of Pittsburgh offers an N.A.T.A.-approved undergraduate curriculum designed to prepare students for the certification examination. This program was established in 1975, and is offered through the School of Education, Program in Health, Physical and Recreation Education, in conjunction with the Department of Orthopedic Surgery, Division of Sports Medicine.

Because of the need for certified athletic trainers on the secondary school level, N.A.T.A. has introduced the concept of the teacher-trainer. Students enrolling in athletic training curricula are strongly recommended to pursue a teaching certificate program. A unique feature of the Pitt program is that students can major in any teaching curriculum while pursuing a career in athletic training.

The program is one of a few in the country open to both education and physical therapy majors.

With this extensive program, an additional responsibility of the athletic trainer at Pitt is teaching the Athletic Training and Sports Medicine curriculum.

As well as servicing all 19 athletic teams at the University, the Pitt training staff serves as consultants, and participants in clinics throughout the area.

Kip Smith

Kip Smith Head Football Trainer

Kip Smith joined the Pitt staff in 1974 and currently directs the training room for the Panther football squad.

A native of Mentone, Indiana, Kip attended Indiana State (Terre Haute) University where he majored in physical education with a specialization in athletic training. He received his masters degree from the University of Arizona.

He served as the head athletic trainer at Tucson (Arizona) High School before coming to Pitt. As an assistant athletic trainer at Pitt, Kip covered three football bowl games as well as the NIT (basketball) Tournament. He was elevated to head trainer in 1977 and has covered three more football bowl games since.

Kip has lectured at, moderated and directed several clinics and sports medicine symposiums, along with helping to coordinate the education curriculum in athletic training at Pitt.

Kip and his wife Debbie (Kiefner) have two children: Stacey 3 and Jason 1.

Francis Feld

Francis Feld Athletic Trainer

Francis Feld joined the Pitt staff as an athletic trainer and clinical instructor in the Division of Sports Medicine in 1978. Prior to that, he was head athletic trainer for two years at Center Township High School.

Francis is a 1976 graduate of Pitt. He earned a B.S. degree in History and Sociology, with a specialization in athletic training.

He has lectured at various high school and midget football league clinics in the area. A native of North Beaver (Mohawk High School) Township, Francis is single.

THE INCREDIBLE!

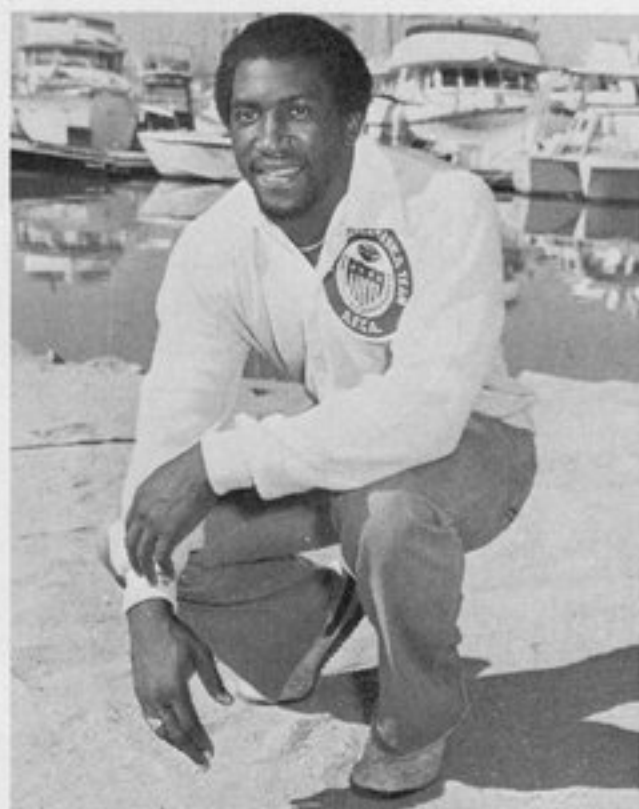

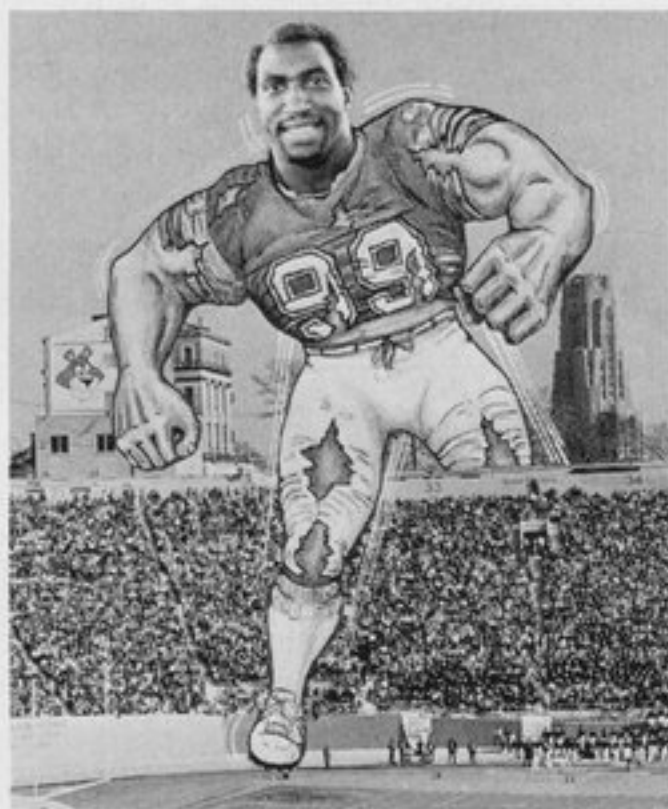

HUGH GREEN

Defensive End
Senior

6-2, 222
Natchez, Mississippi

Quite simply, Hugh Green is the finest lineman in the country today, and that's not just Pittsburgh talk either . . . it comes nationally from opponent coaches, covering media, and opponent players . . . a devastating and dominating performer, Hugh is the on and off the field leader of a Pitt defense that was ranked in the top seven in the country in three different categories last year . . . incredibly, Hugh is already a two-time consensus first-team All-America, even though he is only entering his senior season . . . the Walter Camp Foundation made him the first sophomore in history to be chosen to its first team . . . accolades proclaiming his greatness continue to pour in on a non-stop basis and just last year he was named one of the four finalists (the only junior) for the prestigious Lombardi Trophy—indicative of the Nation's finest lineman . . . perhaps ABC-TV commentator Frank Broyles put it best after watching Hugh perform twice last season in leading Pitt to a 11-1 record . . . said the man who ought to know: "Hugh Green is unbelievable. He's All-World. He's the best lineman I've seen anywhere this year. That's the fastest I've ever seen a defensive end move." . . . added Broyles' broadcasting partner Al Michaels, "Hugh Green is the best defensive football player I've seen this year!" . . . a devastating and dominating performer, Hugh has awed all who have seen him play . . . not only does he have uncanny quickness, speed (4.5 forty) and hitting ability, but is also unselfish and plays the game within the team concept . . . despite not playing a "glamor" position, he also received a large number of votes for the Heisman Trophy . . . because of what he has accomplished to date and because he is the best defensive player in the country, he is a bonafide candidate for both the Heisman and Lombardi Trophies in 1980 . . . he is the cornerstone of a Pitt defensive team that ranked 4th in total defense, 5th in scoring defense and seventh in rushing defense . . . says Coach Jackie Sherrill: "Hugh has been the best defensive player in the country for three

MARK MAY

Offensive Tackle
Senior

6-6, 282
Oneonta, NY

OK, everyone, it's reader participation time!
EDITOR: "Mark May is SO big . . ."
READER: "How big is he???" EDITOR: "Mark May is SO big . . . (you fill in the blank . . .)"

for the options, sweeps and screens despite his mammoth size . . . when the Panthers need that tough yard, everyone in the stadium knows the ball is going right up his back . . . nicknamed "May Day" as in the international distress signal . . . distress is what tackles who have to line up against him feel . . . Mark is a favorite speaker for Golden Panther and civic groups; is one of the most popular players on the entire squad to alumni and fans . . . lettered in football, basketball, track and wrestling at Oneonta High School . . . likes to fish in his spare time . . . majoring in history at Pitt . . . son of Clarence and Eithel May.

There's no doubt about it—this man is an aircraft carrier . . . not only does he sound big—he is . . . his shoulders are so broad, it seems he could carry the weight of the world on them—let alone the offensive line responsibilities on the Pitt football team . . . has been a dominating force on the Pitt line of scrimmage since he was a freshman . . . slowly, recognition has come his way, and last year he was named honorable mention All-America by the Associated Press, and first-team All-East . . . since the Gator Bowl in 1977, he has been voted Lineman-of-the-Week by the Pitt coaches 12 times in his career . . . he consistently rates high among the offensive linemen . . . last year, the man he was assigned to block didn't lay a hand on the Pitt quarterback all season . . . some of his best efforts have come against top people and, because of that, he is a top Outland Trophy and All-America candidate . . . two years ago, he held off All-America Bruce Clark (Penn State) to one assist . . . last year, he neutralized Washington All-America tackle Doug Martin and allowed him only one tackle . . . an intelligent young man who sounds (and looks) like a professor, he is quick in moving outside

ALL-AMERICA CANDIDATE BENJIE PRYOR

Tight End
Senior

Arnold, Pa.

Benjie blossomed last year and lived up to all of the flowery superlatives that had been attached to his name as a scholastic performer . . . the possessor of all the assets to be a premier tight end—the size, speed, the quickness, the strength and the ability to go up after the ball . . . Benjie used those assets last year to lead Pitt in receiving: 45 catches for 588 yards and three touchdowns (see career stats below) . . . he caught a pass in each of the 12 games last year and was a master of the crucial third down grab . . . an explosive blocker, he could get by on his blocking ability alone . . . for his efforts last year, he was named third-team All-America by the Associated Press, and first-team All-East . . . already, Benjie ranks 12th on the all-time Pitt career receiving list with a whole season to go . . . a central figure on a team that set an all-time Pitt season passing mark (2,575 yards), he figures to excel again in the high-powered passing attack authored by quarterback Danny Marino . . . his teammates call him “Benjie Cunningham” because he reminds them of Pittsburgh Steeler tight end Bennie Cunningham . . . like his nicknamesake, Pryor is a deep threat because of his speed (4.6 forty), is bullish after he catches the ball and the coaches love his down-field blocking . . . he is quite strong enough to take on defensive ends play after play . . . was quite a basketball player also at Valley High School, and was a member of the Pennsylvania Roundball Team . . . a communications major . . . son of Ben and Minnie Pryor.

ALL-AMERICA CANDIDATE RANDY McMILLAN

“The Big Mac Attack”

Fullback
Senior

Jarrettsville, MD

When healthy last year, Randy McMillan was as good as any running back in the country . . . in his first game he rushed for 82 yards in the first quarter (finished with 141) . . . a bruised sternum hindered his performance for several weeks . . . a runner from the “Earl Campbell school”, McMillan led Pitt in rushing with 802 yards (a 4.4 average) and nine touchdowns . . . was also a valuable receiver: 14 receptions for 184 yards and one TD . . . the second leading scorer on the squad with 60 points (10 TD's) . . . his rushing effort was the 10th top single all-time season rushing performance by a Pitt running back . . . he could become the third Pitt running back to rush for 1,000 yards in a season (Tony Dorsett did it four times; Elliott Walker, once) . . . he is a bonafide All-America candidate . . . his two best games were against the top two opponents on the Pitt schedule: he rushed for 119 yards against Washington and accounted for 207 yards in total offense and scored all three Pitt touchdowns against Penn State . . . against the Lions, he rushed for 114 yards and caught passes for an additional 93 yards—one was a 50-yard pass . . . a bullish runner, hard to bring down with a head of steam, Randy runs a 4.6 forty . . . two years ago, he was the leading junior college rusher (1,589) and leading scorer (20 touchdowns) in the country at North Harford Junior College in Maryland . . . a physical education major at Pitt . . . son of Lewis and Edna McMillan.

ALL-AMERICA CANDIDATE DAN MARINO

Quarterback
Sophomore

Pittsburgh, Pa.

Danny Marino made quite an impact on the college football world after only five starts as a freshman quarterback last season . . . simply put, he may be the best young quarterback in the country . . . he passed for 1,680 yards—the most ever by a Pitt freshman—completing 130 of 222 attempts (.586) and 10 touchdowns . . .

but those stats don't begin to tell the story: all he did was take over for an injured Rick Trocano in the seventh game of the year and lead Pitt to five consecutive wins, including a 16-10 decision over Arizona in the Fiesta Bowl . . . actually, he was instrumental in eight Pitt wins in all . . . although only a sophomore he is a bonafide All-America candidate . . . a drop-back passer, who will never get lost in the pocket, he has pinpoint accuracy and a lightning-quick release . . . he was ranked 10th by the NCAA in passing offense . . . despite his "limited" playing time, he has already had the 4th best single passing season in Pitt history, is 10th on the Pitt all-time career passing list and two of his efforts last year (297 yards passing against Penn State and 272 yards passing against Army) rank in the top ten single game passing performances at the school . . . with his rifle arm, he engineered the highest Pitt single passing season output (2,575) and led the way to a 214.6 per game passing yardage average . . . it was the first time that a Pitt team had averaged over 200 yards passing a game for an entire season . . . he also punts when needed . . . though he had nine interceptions on the season, Dan threw only five of them in his last 175 passing attempts, or, once every 35 attempts . . . he makes things happen—case in point: in his very first college appearance, he threw three consecutive passes; the first, a toss into the end-zone that was intercepted, the second was almost intercepted, and the third went for a 23-yard touchdown . . . Dan grew up and went to high school in the shadow of Pitt's Cathedral of Learning, at Central Catholic High School, next to Pitt campus . . . was All-Everything in high school . . . he was drafted in the 4th round of the major league baseball draft by the Kansas City Royals and chose not to sign with KC . . . a communications major at Pitt . . . son of Dan and Veronica Marino.

Lee "Butch" Baierl* Strong Safety So., 6-1, 185 Pittsburgh, PA

"Butch" is another redshirted Panther, missing his freshman season due to an ankle injury . . . was a solid performer on the special teams in 1979 . . . says Coach Fazio, "Butch made good improvement in the Spring. He seems comfortable now at the strong safety position." . . . coached at North Allegheny High by Bob Miller . . . captain of the football, basketball and track teams his senior year there . . . All-WPIAL and All-West Penn Conference for two years . . . All-Section 9 selection in basketball . . . led his track team to the WPIAL title and a second place finish in the state . . . anchored record setting 440 and 880 relay teams . . . brother, Bob played football for Pitt in the early 70's . . . uncle, Bill, has been a long time Pitt athletic booster and prominent member of the Golden Panthers . . . enjoys playing golf and tennis in his spare time . . . Economics . . . son of Robert and Jane Baierl.

Dennis Ballard* Tight End So., 6-3, 225 Hugheston, WV

Dennis gives the Panthers talent and depth at the tight end position . . . will continue in a backup role behind Benjie Pryor and Mike Dombrowski, both seniors, and should get his big chance to start in 1981 . . . says Coach Naunchik, "Denny has all the tools to be a great tight end. He's big, strong, has good speed and can catch the ball." . . . coached at DuPont High by Dana Griffith . . . earned six letters there—three each in football and track . . . All-State, All-Southern, All-Kanawha Valley Conference (AAA), received the Hunt Award, a statewide award, as the best lineman in West Virginia and won the Thom McCann Award as the best all-around scholar-athlete in the Kanawha Valley . . . has run a 4.6 forty . . . an excellent blocker . . . plans to study business . . . son of Donald and Rose Ballard.

Emil Boures Offensive Guard Jr., 6-3, 255 Norristown, PA

Emil had a solid season for the Panthers in 1979, and was one of the team's steadiest, most dependable players . . . should be even more comfortable in his starting right guard position with a year under his belt . . . says Coach Moore, "Emil is just a sound football player. He's made great progress" . . . considers beating Penn State last year his biggest athletic thrill at Pitt . . . respects Hugh Green and Mark May for their great ability . . . a very coachable player, Emil has played offensive tackle in emergency situations . . . was coached by Jack Hash at Bishop Kenrick High . . . Jerry Boyarsky

Jerry Boyarsky* Middle Guard Sr., 6-3, 275 Scott, PA

This rugged giant really came into his own last year . . . not only did he finish fourth on the team in tackles (66 tackles: 37 solos and 29 assists to go with his three sacks and three fumble recoveries) in nine games, but he just refused to be blocked and clogged up the middle of the stingy Pitt defense . . . in a mid-season four-game stretch, he made three crucial fumble recoveries and even had an interception against Washington . . . strength is his undisputed best asset . . . while Hugh Green is the flash of the Pitt front five, Boyarsky is the blood and guts . . . after sharing the job his first two seasons at Pitt, he moved into the starting role last year and won't be budged . . . a jovial sort off the field, he prides himself with being the slimmest 275-pounder on the squad . . . affectionately know as "Cookie Monster" by his teammates . . . is one of 14 Panthers who have earned three football letters . . . won four letters in track and two in football at Lakeland High School, where he was coached by Gerald Wasilchak . . . was a first-team UPI and AP All-State selection . . . Big 33 . . . Suburban Times Conference All-Star for two years, Scranton Times Athlete-of-the-Week on several occasions . . . son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Boyarsky.

John Brown Flanker So., 6-4, 214 Lower Burrell, PA

John is another fine athlete who has a bright future at Pitt . . . is currently battling Barry Compton for a reserve behind Larry Sims . . . saw considerable action for the JV's last year, teaming with Danny Daniels to form a good pass-catch duo . . . says Coach Naunchik, "John is a big, strong, good looking target, the kind quarterbacks like to throw to" . . . John attended Marine Military Academy in Harlingen, Texas before enrolling at Pitt . . . his coach at Burrell was George Geyer . . . at the Academy, played both football and basketball . . . has been clocked at 9.8 in the 100-yard dash, and 21.8 in the 220 . . . capable of playing any of the pass receiving positions . . . won five letters at Burrell (two football, two basketball, one track) . . . an English major who would like to be a writer . . . likes playing the guitar, and the beach life . . . nicknamed "Downtown", as in long bomb . . . son of Robert and Barbara Brown.

Dave Bucklew Defensive Tackle Sr., 6-2, 231 Pittsburgh, PA

Dave started six games at nose guard and tackle when injuries forced him into front line service . . . did a very commendable job . . . according to Coach Fazio, "Dave is very dependable. He can play any of the down three positions and play them well. He's always in the right spot." . . . an intelligent player with good football instinct, he played in nine games last season, making 15 tackles and 15 assists . . . a good pass rusher, he has shown great improvement since the first day he stepped on campus . . . played football, baseball and basketball at Baldwin High, where his coach was Jim Gilloly . . . won seven letters in high school . . . was All-Western Conference and an All-Central South Hills All-Star for 2 years . . . Bryan Watkins Defensive End So., 6-3, 212 Richmond, VA

A redshirt, this could be the year Bryan challenges for playing time . . . is being used at defensive end, where the Panthers are looking for depth . . . says Coach Fazio, "If Bryan can continue to develop his strength, he should be able to help us" . . . played both linebacker and defensive tackle at Armstrong High School in Richmond . . . as a senior, was named All-Capital as a linebacker and All-Region as a tackle . . . named Capital District MVP as both a junior and a senior . . . won three letters in three different sports, football, basketball and track . . . Industrial Engineering . . . enjoys painting.

Al Wenglikowski* Defensive End So., 6-1½, 196 Franklin, OH

Al was a defensive back and special teams player last season, but has been moved to defensive end, where he could push for action as a replacement . . . says Coach Fazio, "Alan is a very aggressive athlete. We hope he can make the adjustment to defensive end without too much difficulty" . . . a Prep-All America, Al's coach at Franklin High was Scott Miltenberger . . . lettered twice in football, and three times in wrestling and track . . . played in the Ohio North-South All Star game . . . All-Mid Miami League in football and wrestling . . . won Franklin High's Most Athletic Award and was a class vice-president . . . Administration of Justice . . . would like to work for the FBI . . . respects Rick Trocano, who recruited him . . . considers playing on national television his biggest thrill at Pitt . . . son of Victor and Doris Wenglikowski

Terry White Defensive Back Sr., 5-10, 180 Thomasville, GA

Terry had his finest year as a Panther in 1979, starting at cornerback when JoJo Heath was moved to safety . . . should be even better this season . . . says Coach Fazio, "Terry has good speed and leaping ability. He should also be one of the top defensive backs in the country." . . . played in all 12 games, making 40 tackles, 15 assists and three sacks . . . led the Panthers in interceptions with five . . . also recovered a fumble . . . used on punt and kickoff returns . . . had his best performance on regional television against Syracuse when he returned a punt 85 yards for a touchdown, intercepted a Bill Hurley pass and recovered a fumble, earning ABC-Chevrolet Defensive Player of the Game honors . . . returned one kickoff 31 yards against Penn State, Pitt's longest of the season . . . Terry was recruited to Pitt as a running back but was moved to defense, where he has found a home . . . at Central High in Georgia, he rushed for 1,375 yards his senior year and scored 16 touchdowns . . . team MVP, All-State 1st team, All-District 1st team, and District II Back of the Year . . . garnered three letters in both football and track, two in basketball . . . state champion in the long jump (23-1) as a senior.

Carlton Williamson* Strong Safety Sr., 6-1, 200 Atlanta, GA

Strong safety was a question mark going into the 1979 season because of the loss of Jeff Delaney, but Carlton turned that question mark into an exclamation point . . . says Coach Fazio, "Carlton is one of our unsung performers. He supports the run as well as anyone, and plays very good pass defense." . . . started all 12 games last season, and made 40 tackles, 25 assists and assisted on a sack . . . intercepted three passes and returned them for 28 yards . . . returned kickoffs during his sophomore season . . . returned one 47 yards against Temple at Pitt Stadium . . . was a star quarterback at Brown High, where his coach was Howard Glover . . . producer of 1,923 yards as a senior, with 15 touchdowns rushing and two passing . . . nicknamed "Hammer" after former pro football palyer Fred Williamson . . . enjoys listening to music and watching televised sports . . . in high school, was All-State, All-America and recipient of the Golden Helmet Award . . . considers last year's win over Penn State his biggest thrill at Pitt . . . one of Pitt's most reliable, steady performers, Carlton should blossom into an exceptional performer this season . . . son of Willie and Ree Williamson.

Michael Woods* Defensive End So., 6-0, 202 Natchez, MS

Mike will be trying to push Ricky Jackson and Hugh Green for playing time in 1980 . . . a player in the mold of Green and Jackson, possessing good speed, strength and agility . . . saw some game action last year, and was a regular member of the special teams . . . according to Coach Fazio, "Michael made tremendous improvement in the spring. He's come a long way in learning his position. We look for him to make a contribution this year." . . . recovered a blocked punt against Penn State, setting up a Pitt score . . . his coach at North Natchez High was Tom Williams . . . All-State for two years, All-Big Eight Conference for three years and Defensive Player of the Year in the state of Mississippi . . . won three letters in football and one in basketball . . . could be a sleeper on the Panther squad . . . son of Frank Woods and Louise Dixon.

THE 1980 FRESHMEN RECRUITS

MARC BAILEY HB 6-1, 195 KING OF PRUSSIA, PA

The Panthers plucked one of the country's top running prospects in inking this Parade and Blue Chip high school All-America . . . regarded as the top runner in the Eastern sector of the State, Bailey joins Dwight Collins—also a Parade and Blue Chip All-America—who was considered the top runner in the West . . . together they could go a long way in alleviating the concern the Pitt coaches had for depth at running back . . . Marc had an illustrious career at Upper Merion High School, just outside Philadelphia, where he was coached by Richard Como . . . he rushed for over 3,400 yards and scored 45 touchdowns . . . the team also won its last 22 consecutive games with Marc in the lineup . . . no wonder 83 schools were hot on the trail for his services . . . he has garnered an awesome list of career honors . . . along with being a Parade and Blue Chip All-America, Marc was also chosen All-America by the Associated Press, United Press International and Centenary Prep . . . he was AP and UPI All-State, McDonald's Athlete-of-the-Year, Courier All-Star (three years), Bulletin All-Star (two years), All-Philadelphia (two years), All-Suburban League (two years), Philadelphia Inquirer All-Area, Philadelphia Bulletin All-Scholastic, Norristown Times Herald All-Star, and received the area's Haley Award as the Offensive-Player-of-the-Year . . . was also named Student-Athlete-of-the-Month several times . . . because of his outstanding ability, Marc is one of seven Panther recruits chosen to play in the Big 33 game and one of nine new Panthers chosen to play in the PA Coaches Football Classic (both slated for this summer) . . . in all, Marc earned three letters in football and two in basketball at Upper Merion . . . runs a 4.5 forty . . . recruited to Pitt by Joe Moore . . . nicknamed "Goose" because of his running style . . . plans on studying communications . . . Marc said academics tipped the scale in Pitt's favor . . . he also noted that "Pittsburgh is a city of winners and the people were very together. Even if you're a stranger they take you in with open arms" . . . the quality of the football program also weighed heavily . . . "the football team is challenging for another national championship and I'd like to be part of that," he said . . . son of Harry and Louise Bailey.

BILL BEACH FB 6-2, 215 FINDLAY, OH

A solid football prospect, Bill is of the "big back" mold and brings the kind of size to the Panther backfield that has been lacking in recent years . . . the bruising-type runner with the capability to run over people, Bill rushed for 806 yards last season at Findlay High School and had a very fine 6.8 yard per carry average . . . coached by Bill Jones at Findlay, Bill was All-Buckeye Conference (first team), All-Northwest Ohio, a member of the North-South Ohio All-Star team, and Honorable Mention All-State . . . a well rounded athlete, he won three letters in track in addition to his three football numerals . . . he was also a member of the National Honor Society . . . one of six running backs recruited by the Panthers this year . . . is fond of animals and farming, along with his athletic interests . . . though undecided on his studies, he sees graduate school in his future . . . just an excellent student, Bill carried a 3.9 QPA in the classroom at Findlay . . . recruited to Pitt by Joe Naunchik . . . son of Paul and Lois Beach.

DARRYL BOOTSOG*6-3, 245*ELLWOOD CITY, PA

Darryl is another link in the long chain of fine Western Pennsylvania athletes that have matriculated at Pitt in recent years . . . was a three-year letterman in both football and baseball at Riverside High School, where he was coached by Karl Florie . . . he captained the football team there as a senior and was named first team ALL-WPIAL, first team Tri-County All-Conference (both as a junior and senior), offensive line MVP, Pittsburgh Press Finest 44, honorable mention All-State and to the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette All-WPIAL first team . . . nicknamed "Dude" by his family . . . was recruited to Pitt by Nick Rapone . . . likes to sing, play the piano, hunt and just about any kind of sports activity . . . son of Paul and Nicoletta Boots.

STAN BOYARSKYOG*6-2, 235*SCOTT, PA

Pitt coach Joe Moore, who recruited him, was short and sweet in his evaluation of Stan Boyarsky . . . "he's a good football player," Moore said, "and he's tough, very tough—like his brother" . . . Stan's brother is middle guard Jerry Boyarsky, who came into his own as a defensive lineman last season . . . if Moore's assessment is correct, then that's good news for the Pitt offensive line . . . another sound athlete, Stan lettered three years in football and twice in track at Lakeland High School, where he was coached by Gerald Wasilchak . . . he will play offensive guard for the Panthers . . . though smaller than brother Jerry, Stan seems to have the speed, quickness and cleverness afoot to handle his pulling assignments . . . he was All-Conference first team as both an offensive guard and at defensive tackle . . . the Boyarskys now join the Thomases (Lynn and Pappy) as Pitt's two-brother combinations . . . since the mid-70's, the Panthers have had several brother acts (the Pelusis: John, Jeff and J. C.; the Walkers: Laverga and Elliott; the Delaneys: Jeff and Lindsay; the Cavanaugh's: Matt and D.J.; the Allens: Rodney and Chuck) and that speaks well for the program . . . son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Boyarsky.

JEFFREY CASPERSE*6-3, 190*WASHINGTON, PA

In Casper, Pitt has found another bonafide receiver to snare Danny Marino's passes the next few years . . . one of four wide receivers recruited by the Panthers, Casper caught 32 passes for a 15.4 per catch average his senior year at Trinity High School, where he was coached by Bob Johnson . . . Jeffrey is one of seven Pitt recruits chosen to play in the Big 33 game and one of nine cited for the PA Coaches Football Classic (both games are scheduled this summer) . . . a first team All-WPIAL selection, he was also named to the All-Western Conference team and to the Pittsburgh Press and Post-Gazette Finest 44 teams . . . he also doubled as a punt and kickoff returner at Trinity . . . a well-rounded athlete, he earned one basketball letter as well as three numerals each in baseball and football . . . recruited to Pitt by Joe Pendry . . . son of Albert and Janice Casper.

DANIEL J. CAVANAUGHQB*6-1, 185*YOUNGSTOWN, OH

With Dan Marino destined for greatness as a Pitt quarterback the next three years, there was some concern in the Pitt camp about recruiting young quarterback prospects . . . with the recruitment of Cavanaugh and with Rick Trocano and Danny Daniels already on the roster, that concern has been alleviated . . . D. J. is the brother of Matt Cavanaugh, who was one of the all-time great Pitt quarterbacks and who holds a slew of Pitt passing records . . . along with Robert Steinbeck, D. J. keeps the pipeline from Youngstown to Pitt football flowing . . . that talent-rich pipeline began producing for Pitt in the early 70's with Glenn Hodge and Bruce Murphy and has played an integral part in the resurgence of Pitt football . . . the influx from Youngstown has produced such stars as John, Jeff and J. C. Pelusi, the Cavanaugh's, John Takcas and Steinbeck . . . was recruited to Pitt by Bob Matey, whose brother Ed coached both Cavanaugh's at Youngstown Chaney High School . . . the Pitt ties to Youngstown Chaney go back to Bob Matey, who first matriculated at Iowa State where he played for, and was coached by, Jackie Sherrill . . . Matey came to Pitt with Sherrill as part of Johnny Majors' first staff. Cavanaugh was a three-year starter at Youngstown Chaney where he ran basically the same offense that Pitt runs, according to his coach . . . he accounted for over 2,000 yards total offense last season, including 12 touchdown passes and a .560 completion percentage . . . he earned three football and two baseball letters at Chaney and was named All-City, Northeast Ohio honorable mention and was a Kodak Prep All-America . . . but, according to Ed Matey, "One of his greatest assets is his leadership ability" . . . though the coaching staff calls the plays, D.J. had the freedom to audible at the line of scrimmage and did a commendable job . . . Matey said that D.J. was further along than Matt at identical periods in their high school careers . . . a three-year starter and letterman at Chaney, D.J. also lettered twice in baseball . . . another brother, Ken, played football at Adrian College from 1975-77 and at Youngstown State last season . . . an interesting note: when Matt Cavanaugh stepped into the starting job at Youngstown Chaney he replaced Ron Calcagni, who went on to excel at Arkansas and who is presently starring in the Canadian Football League . . . waiting in the wings, now, at Chaney is Calcagni's brother Jim, who is a highly-regarded prospect . . . son of Daniel and Rena Cavanaugh.

GREG CHRISTYT*6-6, 265*FREEPORT, PA

At 6-6, 265, Greg is Pitt's biggest recruit . . . with his size, strength and speed, he could be of immediate help on either the offensive or defensive line . . . testimony to his ability was given when he was named first team on both offense and defense on the AIC Conference All-Star team . . . is one of nine Panther recruits to be chosen to the PA Coaches Football Classic and one of seven new Panthers to be selected for the Big 33 game (both are scheduled during the summer) . . . was also named to the Pittsburgh Press and Post-Gazette Finest 44 teams, honorable mention All-State on offense, first team All-WPIAL on defense and to the Harrisburg Patriot News Finest 48 team . . . was coached by Don Early at Freeport High School . . . won two letters each in football and track there . . . was a Who's Who in American High School Students . . . recruited to Pitt by Joe Pendry . . . nicknamed "Sasquatch" because of the size of his feet . . . his uncle Merideth Christy (1968-71) played college football at Thiel College . . . son of Elmer and Carole Christy.

DWIGHT COLLINSHB*6-2, 195*ALIQUIPPA, PA

One of the most highly sought-after football players in the country, Dwight was considered the most gifted high school athlete in Western Pennsylvania last year . . . also considered by some as the "second coming" of Tony Dorsett, Dwight comes to Pitt from the same Beaver Valley that produced Dorsett . . . in any event, he has received the most fanfare of any Pitt running back recruit since Dorsett . . . Dwight was named to the Parade All-America team (one of two cited in Western Pennsylvania), Adidas All-America and Prep All-America . . . it is his combination of size and speed that has had the recruiters drooling . . . as a junior he rushed for over 1,000 yards and, despite an ankle injury that plagued him most of his senior year, he still rushed for over 900 yards . . . he scored 166 points as a junior and led his team, Beaver Falls High School, to the State Championship game . . . he was coached there by both Larry Bruno and Tony Doorsak . . . all in all, Dwight earned 11 letters at Beaver Falls: four each in football and basketball, two in track and one in baseball . . . is one of seven new Panther recruits selected to play in the Big 33 game and one of nine recruits slated to play in the PA Coaches Football Classic (both games are scheduled for later this summer) . . . one of two Parade All-America running backs signed by the Panthers (Marc Bailey) . . . Dwight could have gone to several schools on a basketball scholarship . . . he led his team with a 22-point scoring and a 14 rebound per game average . . . his team is presently in the State Championship tournament . . . he had over 2,000 points and 1,300 rebounds, the leading rebounder in Beaver Falls history in his basketball career . . . he was also the WPIAL defending 100-meter track champion . . . a high school All-America in basketball too, Dwight was also chosen All-Section, second team All-State, MVP in Section III in basketball . . . he will be selected to play in the prestigious Dapper Dan Roundball Classic basketball game, where a team of Pennsylvania All-Stars will meet a team of U.S. Scholastic All-Stars . . . was recruited to Pitt by Foge Fazio . . . a brother, Frank, played football at Utah (1976) and has been a member of the Washington Redskins the last three NFL seasons . . . wants to study business . . . son of Eli and Clara Collins.

DEXTER EDMONDSSE*6-3, 195*BRIDGEPORT, CT

Rated one of the top scholastic receivers in the East, Dexter is the "super" the Pitt coaches were looking for . . . the Pitt recruiters were concentrating on receivers—they inked four top-notch prospects in all—and Edmonds could be the cream of that crop . . . both a Parade and Blue Chip All-America, Dexter was chosen to all the all-star teams and was generally regarded as one of the top prospects in the East . . . the third Parade All-America signed by Pitt (Collins and Bailey) . . . he comes to Pitt from Bassick High School where he was coached by his uncle, Frank Brown . . . before moving to Bassick to coach, Brown was a former NFL lineman with the Dallas Cowboys and the New York Jets . . . Dexter's hometown is actually Columbus, Georgia, but Dexter moved north so he could be coached by his uncle . . . an excellent student with a 3.4 QPA, Dexter caught 48 passes as a senior with 15 touchdowns . . . he snagged 24 passes as a junior . . . in addition, he caught an unbelievable 52 two-point conversions in his career . . . he has 4.6 speed in the forty . . . a two-year starter, Dexter was also a track star . . . he earned six letters all told . . . recruited to Pitt by Foge Fazio . . . Fazio, understandably, is very high on Edmonds . . . "in light of our needs, I feel strongly that Dexter can come in as a freshman and contribute," Fazio said. "He has the size, the speed, and the athletic ability, but he can also catch the ball in a crowd, can leap, is a good target and has excellent hands."

THOMAS FLYNNDB/QB*6-1, 185*VERONA, PA

The Panthers picked up one of the finest all-around athletes in Western Pennsylvania in Tom Flynn . . . Tom was a three-letter winner for Coach Andy Urbanic's excellent Penn Hills team and also lettered three times in track and two in basketball . . . a consistent honor roll student, Tom distinguished himself as both a quarterback and a defensive back at Penn Hills . . . he was chosen first team All-State and honorable mention All-America as well as WPIAL AAA Player-of-the-Year and received identical honors from the Pittsburgh Press, Post-Gazette and KDKA-TV . . . was also team MVP and first team All-Foothills Conference . . . joins teammate Tom Johnson as a new Pitt recruit . . . the last Penn Hills player Pitt recruited was Mike Christ, who was also WPIAL AAA Player-of-the-Year . . . one of nine new Panthers selected to play in the PA Coaches Football Classic game and one of seven Panthers picked on the Big 33 team (both games are slated for this summer) recruited to Pitt by Joe Pendry . . . wants to study Computer Science . . . son of Bernard and Mary Flynn.

TROY HILLHB/DB*5-11, 180*SOUTH RIVER, NJ

Troy looks like an exceptional college prospect either as a halfback or defensive back . . . an All-Stater for two years at South River High School, where he was coached by Bill Cstari, Troy was the first back in his school's history to rush for over 1,000 yards for two consecutive seasons . . . in his career he rushed for over 3,000 yards . . . he was also the leading scorer in the country for two seasons . . . in all he earned three letters in football, two in baseball, and one in track . . . another New Jersey athlete recruited to Pitt by Ray Zingler . . . a brother, Carl, played football at Colorado State . . . Drew Pearson of the Dallas Cowboys is a cousin . . . nicknamed "TJ," he wants to study business . . . son of Max and Carrie Hill.

THAD JENKINSLB*6-3, 210*TAMPA, FL

Coach Jackie Sherrill dipped into the fertile Florida recruiting grounds once again and plucked out one of the state's finer line-backing prospects . . . is one of three frosh recruits from Florida—joining Darryl Clark and Joe McCall . . . a bruising tackler he plays in the mold of former Panther linebacking great, Al Chesley . . . at 6-3, 210 lbs., he comes to Pitt with much the same size as Chesley was, coming out of high school . . . a possessor of outstanding athletic ability, Thad was a three-year letterwinner in basketball, as well as a two-year letterwinner in football and track at Tampa's Jefferson High School . . . was coached there by Clarence White . . . earned All-Conference and All-County honors last season as a senior . . . unlike many recruits, Jenkins had his mind made up early on where he wanted to play . . . "I thought it was a better opportunity coming to a team that is up for the national championship," he explained . . . is already looking forward to seeing some action as a frosh—"I am especially looking forward to playing behind Hugh Green," Jenkins says. "Maybe some of him will rub off on me." . . . nicknamed "Bad Thad" . . . plans to pursue a business major at Pitt . . . recruited to Pitt by coach Ron Dickerson . . . son of Arizona and Anna Jenkins.

THOMAS JOHNSONLB/TE*6-5, 210*VERONA, PA

One of two Pitt recruits from the small town of Verona, Tom, along with teammate and Panther recruit Tom Flynn, led the Indians of Penn Hills High School to the WPIAL Championship and one of the top rankings in Eastern high school football . . . a rangy ballplayer he will be tried at both linebacker and tight end . . . Tom was a two-year letterwinner in football (sophomore and senior years) and a three-year letterwinner in basketball at Penn Hills . . . one of seven new Pitt recruits selected to play in the Big 33 game and one of nine new Panthers chosen to participate in the PA Coaches Football Classic (both games are scheduled for the summer) . . . in his three years on the Penn Hills varsity, the Indians were WPIAL Champions each season under coach Andy Urbanic . . . besides excellent athletic credentials, Tom is an avid outdoorsman . . . was impressed with the Panthers' total program and coaching staff . . . recruited by Joe Pendry . . . son of Leroy and Marguerite Johnson.

WILLIAM MAAST*6-5, 245*NEWTOWN SQUARE, PA

Another big and talented lineman, Bill was named All-League and All-County at Marple Newtown High School, where he was coached by Jim Maiale . . . just a fine all-around athlete, he lettered in football, wrestling and baseball . . . he was chosen All-League and All-County in football and also to the district All-Star baseball team . . . he was lured to Pitt by coach Joe Moore . . . likes to ski and lift weights . . . nicknamed "Mr Bill" in reference to the "Saturday Night Live" character . . . plans on studying business at Pitt . . . Bill is one of nine new Panthers to be selected to play in the PA Coaches Football Classic game to be played in Altoona on the fourth of July . . . son of Thomas and Betty Maas.

JOE McCALLHB*6-1, 190*MIAMI, FL

The Pitt recruiters returned to Miami Jackson High School in Miami this year for the first time since 1974 to grab Joe "Do It All" McCall, a versatile running back with plenty of potential . . . it was in 1973, when Jackie Sherrill was the assistant to Johnny Majors, that Pitt first ventured to Miami Jackson and came away with seven players who eventually played a vital role in the resurgence of Pitt football (Charles Anderson, Jim Buoy, Rodney Clark, Jim Farley, Cecil Johnson, Laverga Walker and Arnie Weatherington) . . . Pitt returned in 1974 to recruit Elliot Walker, who went on to become Pitt's second career rusher behind Tony Dorsett . . . the Pitt coaches are high on McCall . . . a talented athlete with 4.5 speed in the forty, McCall rushed for 2,078 career yards at Miami Jackson, where he was coached by Nelson Auggino . . . slowed down by injuries, McCall rushed for 805 yards last year in seven games . . . he was named Inner City Back-of-the-Year both his junior and senior years, All-County and second team All-State . . . earned four football and four track letters . . . finished second in the Inner City Male Athlete-of-the-Year balloting . . . his brother, Michael Strachan, was coached by Sherrill at Iowa State and went on to the NFL New Orleans Saints . . . in explaining his choice of Pitt, McCall said, "I like the atmosphere in Pittsburgh. It's a city of winners and champions" . . . Joe was president of his class as a junior . . . likes to play tennis and basketball and plays the piano and drums . . . nicknamed "Do It All" because he does . . . son of Carl and Margaret Williams.

SAMUEL PILATOT*6-4, 240*MT. PLEASANT, PA

The Panthers picked up a fine looking lineman in this Centenary Prep All-America . . . a three-year letterman in both football and wrestling at Mt. Pleasant Area High School, where he was coached by William Elder, Pilato was named All-State (first team), All-Keystone Conference (offense and defense), to the Pittsburgh Press and Post-Gazette Finest 44 team, and will play in the PA Coaches Football Classic in Altoona, PA, on July 4 . . . a senior class president, he plans on studying the Social Sciences at Pitt . . . his great uncle (John Pilato) played college football at St. Vincent's College (1938-42) . . . chose Pitt because of both the high academic standards and the quality football program . . . recruited to Pitt by Joe Pendry . . . Sam was also very highly recruited as a college wrestling prospect and could have gone to numerous schools via that route . . . Pitt wrestling coach Rande Stottlmyer was one of the coaches hot on his trail . . . as a wrestler he was Section three champ, Keystone Conference champ, third in the WPIAL District seven, fourth in the PIAA state championship tournament and was chosen to three tournament teams . . . son of John and E. Jane Pilato.

Tim brings with him to Pitt all the tools needed to make him an outstanding line prospect . . . a fine all-around athlete, Tim played both offensive tackle and middle linebacker at Toms River High School, where he was coached by Bob Flocco . . . his overall athletic ability is given credence by the fact that he lettered in football, baseball and track . . . won the school's Mariner Award as the football MVP, was named to the Ocean City All-Star team, the Asbury Park Press All-Shore team and played in the State's first North-South All-Star game, which his team (South) won 34-13 . . . as an underclassman, he was voted the team's MVP . . . recruited to Pitt by Ray Zingler . . . nicknamed "Ax Man" because he destroys opponents . . . the Pitt coaches think he will make an excellent noseguard . . . enjoys listening to music and weightlifting every chance he gets . . . plans on a sports medicine curriculum at Pitt . . . son of Richard and Anne Quense.

One of seven new Pitt recruits chosen to play in the PA Coaches Football Classic in Altoona this summer, Jim brings good size and a promising future with him to Pitt . . . the coaches feel he has potential on either the offensive or defensive line and will look at him at both places . . . a good athlete, Jim earned three letters at Avonworth High School: three football, two basketball and one track . . . he was coached there by Ron Oliver . . . one of eight linemen recruited this year, Jim was All-Black Hills Conference (both as offensive and defensive tackle), All-North Hills Post-Gazette All-Star, Pittsburgh Press Finest 44, first team All-State by UPI and second team All-State by the AP . . . he was voted Athlete-of-the-Year by Suburban Life newspapers . . . recruited to Pitt by Foge Fazio . . . the outdoors type, he enjoys hunting and fishing . . . his father played football at Cincinnati before a stint with the Marines, then returned to play football at Muskingum College . . . son of Albert and Lois Shriver.

Along with D. J. Cavanaugh, Steinbeck keeps the pipeline from Youngstown to Pitt flowing . . . that talent-rich pipeline began producing for Pitt in the early 70's with Glenn Hodge and Bruce Murphy and has continued right through the resurgence of Pitt football . . . the influx of talent has produced such stars as the Pelusis (John, Jeff and J. C.), Matt Cavanaugh, John Takacs and the current stock . . . actually, the tie with Youngstown and Pitt football goes back even further, back to assistant coach Bob Matey . . . Matey matriculated to Iowa State where he played for, and was coached by, Jackie Sherrill . . . Matey was part of the football staff that came to Pitt with Sherrill from Iowa State . . . Bob Matey's brother Ed, in fact, is the high school coach at Youngstown Chaney, the school that has produced Steinbeck and the majority of the Youngstown players that have succeeded at Pitt . . . in Steinbeck, the Panthers have recruited perhaps the most multi-talented athlete of the recent recruiting campaign . . . Robert can play linebacker, defensive back, running back, wide receiver, and can punt . . . the Pitt coaches plan to look at him as a linebacker or defensive back . . . in the words of Ed Matey, his coach, "Robert has an abundance of athletic ability" . . . he was third in the area in rushing in a League of solid backs, and, along with his good frame, he has 4.6 speed in the forty . . . he earned three football, three track, and two basketball letters at Chaney . . . he was Youngstown Vindicator first team All-City in football, was basketball MVP as a sophomore, and scored the most team points on the track team . . . recruited to Pitt by Bob Matey . . . son of James and Donna Steinbeck.

A Pittsburgh Press and Post-Gazette Finest 44 pick, Jim will mesh nicely with the Pitt offense line corps . . . the Pitt coaches feel he has a future as a center . . . an All-Conference and All-South Hills pick, Jim was also a regular honor roll student at Seton-LaSalle High School where he was coached by Tom Donahue . . . he earned two football letters at Seton-LaSalle . . . was recruited to Pitt by Foge Fazio . . . in explaining his choice of Pitt, he said—"Pittsburgh is my town and Pitt has everything I'm looking for" . . . his brother Mike (1979-82) is currently playing football at Thiel College . . . plans on studying criminology . . . likes to fish, lift weights, and work on cars . . . nicknamed "Sween" for obvious reasons . . . son of Charles and Shirley Sweeney.

Gary Tammaro was the talk of the local high school football scene a year ago, when he seemed headed for a 2,000-yard rushing season . . . he rushed for 1,450 yards in six games before an injury ended his Cinderella drive . . . in addition to his amazing yardage total, Gary also scored 20 touchdowns . . . his career totals at Western Beaver High School are equally amazing: 3,962 yards and 49 touchdowns . . . just a magnificent all-around athlete, Gary earned nine total letters at Western Beaver: three football and two each in basketball, baseball and track . . . he was named a Centenary Prep All-America for his efforts and is one of seven Panther recruits who will play in the Big 33 game this summer . . . was voted first team All-State, Conference MVP, Pittsburgh Press Player-of-the-Year for both his junior and senior years, Pittsburgh Post-Gazette Player-of-the-Year as a senior, KDKA-TV Player-of-the-Year, and to the Pittsburgh Press Finest 44 team . . . was coached by Richard Niedbala at Western Beaver . . . was also a member of the National Honor Society . . . an excellent student, he is interested in the Pitt Dental School . . . recruited to Pitt by Foge Fazio . . . will be looked at as a running back and defensive back by the Pitt coaches . . . enjoys fishing, bowling, golf and tennis . . . son of John and Ellen Conway.

The Pitt coaches went shopping for receivers this year and they seem to have come up with a dandy one in Bill Wallace . . . in the vernacular, he has the numbers . . . caught an unbelievable 85 passes for 1,348 yards (a 15.9 per catch average), including 19 touchdowns as a senior . . . also caught 55 passes as a junior at Hunterdon High School, where he was coached by Charles Weaver . . . his two-year total of 140 catches not only attests to his ability to go up and get the ball, but it also ranks him in the Top Ten in the country in all-time career catches for a scholastic receiver . . . Weaver likens his style to that of former Oakland Raider great Fred Belitnikoff . . . earned three football and two basketball letters at Hunterdon . . . he turned down a basketball scholarship to Loyola to play football at Pitt . . . was named All-Conference, All-Area, first team All-State, team MVP, and Player-of-the-Year by the Easton Express . . . was also a Player-of-the-Week selection in basketball . . . was recruited to Pitt by Ray Zingler . . . enjoys motorcycles . . . son of Antonia Wallace.

ANOTHER WINNER . . . THE 1979 SEASON IN REVIEW

PITT 24, KANSAS 0

PITTSBURGH, PA (Sept. 15)—Junior college transfer Randy McMillan lived up to his reputation by rushing for 141 yds. on 21 carries in his debut in a Panther uniform, as the Panthers rolled to a 24-0 shutout over the Kansas Jayhawks. Split end, Ralph Still gathered in 3 touchdown passes, one of which was thrown by widely acclaimed freshman quarterback Dan Marino. Marino wasted no time in throwing his first TD strike. He and Rick Trocano combined efforts at quarterback for a total of 277 yds. passing. A second quarter field goal of 24 yds. by Mark Schubert rounded out the Panther's scoring. The Pitt defense held Kansas to a stifling -17 yds. on the ground.

NORTH CAROLINA 17, PITT 7

CHAPEL HILL, NC (Sept. 22)—Although the Panther offense generated nearly a hundred more yards of total offense than the Tar Heels, three turnovers and a busted defensive assignment in the first quarter paved the way for a Panther defeat. North Carolina capitalized on Pitt's first quarter errors and took an early 14 point lead. The Tar Heels built on to their winning margin in the fourth quarter when they added a field goal. Rick Trocano threw a 13 yd. touchdown pass to flanker Kenny Bowles in the third quarter, but the Panthers couldn't overcome their early mistakes to recover fully.

PITT 10, TEMPLE 9

PHILADELPHIA, PA (Sept. 29)—Randy McMillan plowed seven yards for a second quarter touchdown and Mark Schubert boomed a 47 yd. field goal late in the fourth quarter to give the Panthers a narrow 10-9 victory over the Temple Owls. While the Pitt defense did not yield a single touchdown, the sluggish Panther offense made it necessary for Schubert to save the victory in the fourth quarter. Coach Jackie Sherrill was relieved to return home with a 10-9 victory considering the performance of the Pitt offense and the determination of the Owls to upset the favored Panthers.

PITT 28, BOSTON COLLEGE 7

PITTSBURGH, PA (Oct. 6)—Pitt quarterbacks Rick Trocano and Dan Marino joined forces to lead the Panthers to a 28-7 victory over the Boston College Eagles as the Panther defense continued its dominating play. The Panthers scored all of their points on the ground despite 8 for 12 performances by both Rick Trocano and Dan Marino. Randy McMillan scored three times, first on a one-yard plunge in the second quarter and twice on two-yard runs in the fourth quarter. Danny Marino added to his passing game by rushing two yards for a touchdown in the second quarter. The defense held the Eagles to a meager 191 yards in total offense, while forcing five Boston College turnovers.

PITT 35, CINCINNATI 0

PITTSBURGH, PA (Oct. 13)—Pitt ran up 234 on the ground and 268 yards in the air as the Panthers bombed the Cincinnati Bearcats, 35-0. Everything seemed to go right for Pitt, including five different Panthers scoring before the Homecoming crowd in attendance. Rick Trocano, Russell Carter, and Rooster Jones all rushed for another TD. Ralph Still also scored on an 11-yard pass from Danny Marino. Both Rick Trocano and Danny Marino had excellent passing statistics; Trocano was 11 of 17 for 147 while Marino hit on 11 of 16 attempts for 121 yards.

PITT 26, WASHINGTON 14

SEATTLE, Wash. (Oct. 20)—The Pitt defense rose to the occasion once again, forcing three fumbles and intercepting three passes on the way to a 26-14 victory over the Washington Huskies. This was the key to the victory in addition to an absence of mistakes which plagued the Panthers in their earlier games. Randy McMillan provided a consistent running game, rushing for 92 yards on 22 carries while Rick Trocano connected on 8 of 15 passes for 126 yards. McMillan scored on runs of 1 and 21 yards and Artrell Hawkins ran for a 1 yard score. Mark Schubert added field goals of 26 and 43 yards to account for the Panthers' scoring.

PITT 24, NAVY 7

PITTSBURGH, PA (Oct. 27)—When quarterback Rick Trocano pulled a hamstring in the first quarter, Freshman Dan Marino entered to break Navy's nationally ranked defense, connecting on 22-30 passes for 227 yards and 2 touchdowns. The Midshipmen were shut down offensively after their second quarter score and allowed Marino to direct Pitt's comeback victory. In the second half Marino threw touchdown passes to Freddy Jacobs from three yards out and to Ralph Still for an 11-yard score to turn their second quarter deficit of 7-3 into a 24-7 Panther win. The Pitt defense was once again outstanding, allowing only 116 yards to the Navy offense.

PITT 28, SYRACUSE 21

PITTSBURGH, PA (Nov. 1)—In a game that featured a matchup of one of the nation's top college quarterbacks in Syracuse's Bill Hurley and up-and-coming Pitt star Dan Marino, seniority lost out to youth as Marino led the Panthers 28-21 victory over the Orangemen. Continuing his superior play, Marino connected on 18 of 26 passes for 170 yards and two touchdowns. Pitt took a halftime lead on Terry White's 85-yard punt return, an 8-yard TD pass from Marino to Ralph Still and a 3-yard scoring toss from Marino to Wayne DiBartola. Syracuse rallied in the second half with two touchdown runs by Hurley, but Pitt locked up the game on a three-yard touchdown run by Rooster Jones. Although Coach Jackie Sherrill said that the game was plagued with "mental lapses," Danny Marino provided the spark to extend Pitt's winning streak to six games.

PITT 24, WEST VIRGINIA 17

MORGANTOWN, W.VA. (Nov. 10)—Pitt fought to a 24-17 victory over their 72 year arch rival West Virginia in the final game at Mountaineer Stadium. Down 17-3 at the opening of the fourth quarter, the Mountaineers climbed back in scoring two touchdowns, but Pitt held on to increase its record to 8-1. At the half Pitt held a 10-0 lead on a one-yard touchdown run by Rooster Jones and a 42-yard field goal by Mark Schubert. A win seemed to be clinched in the fourth quarter when Benjie Pryor caught an 8-yard touchdown pass from Danny Marino. But the Panthers needed Freddy Jacobs' four-yard touchdown run to hold off a West Virginia comeback. Danny Marino had another good day passing, completing 14 of 28 passes for 232 yards and one touchdown, while back-up tight end Mike Dombrowski caught three passes in a substitute role.

PITT 40, ARMY 0

WEST POINT, N.Y. (Nov. 17)—It was a showcase game for the Panther offense and defense as Pitt easily defeated the outmanned Cadets of Army, 40-0. Danny Marino went 17 for 30 for 272 yards and one touchdown, while the Pitt defense held Army to a scant 67 yards in total offense. Scoring for the Panthers were Rooster Jones on runs of one and two yards, Kenny Bowles on a 33-yard pass from tailback Freddy Jacobs, Randy McMillan on a two-yard run and Ralph Still on a 7-yard scoring toss from Danny Marino. Mark Schubert added field goals of 27 and 28 yards, while the defense produced a safety on a quarterback sack.

PITT 29, PENN STATE 14

UNIVERSITY PARK, PA (Dec. 1)—Running back Randy McMillan was devastating as he scored three touchdowns and totaled more than 200 yards offensively in Pitt's first victory over the Lions since the 1976 national championship year. McMillan's performance added to Pitt's dominance on the field and earned him the Coogan Award, offered to the outstanding player of the game. Pitt's 29-14 win over Penn State was only its second in the last 14 games and gave Pitt supremacy in the east. Freshman quarterback Danny Marino again displayed his talent as he passed for 279 yards and one touchdown in the fourth quarter, and also kicked two punts. Penn State scored in the first quarter on a 65-yard run by Matt Suhey, but Pitt came back with a 22-yard field goal by Mark Schubert before the quarter ended. Pitt dominated in the second quarter as McMillan scored on smashing runs of six and nine yards, then later in the game caught a screen pass and broke out of a crowd for 43 yards—setting up another Schubert field, one of three for Mark on the day. "Big Mac" later took another screen pass and weaved en route to a 50-yard touchdown run.

FIESTA BOWL PITT 16, ARIZONA 10

TEMPE, ARIZ. (Dec. 25) — Surprisingly, Pitt needed three Mark Schubert field goals in order to capture a Fiesta Bowl victory against Arizona in the Christmas Day classic. The Panther offense was not as effective as it had been during the regular season, but by no means would the Pitt team settle for an unhappy ending. The only score of the first quarter came on a 46-yard field goal by Mark Schubert. Pitt took a 6-0 lead in the second quarter on a second Schubert field goal, this time a 36-yarder. The Wildcats scored first in the second half on a 38-yard field goal by Brett Weber. Benjie Pryor scored the lone Panther touchdown on a 12-yard pass from Dan Marino who was 15 of 29 for 172 yards on the day. Schubert added to the Panther lead by kicking his third field goal.

The 1980 Spring Game

Honorary coach Bill Hillgrove and his star player, Jackie Sherrill, enjoy a moment on the sidelines at the 1980 Spring Game.

Larry Sims' 185 yards receiving and Dan Marino's 11 of 14 passing performance gave the Varsity a 35-22 edge over the Alumni in the 4th Annual Pitt Alumni-Varsity Spring Football game.

Under the format of the Alumni-Varsity game, which Jackie Sherrill re-introduced to Pitt four years ago, the Pitt Varsity squad squared off against a team made up of past Panther players. The game provided fans with an exciting preview to the 1980 season and brought Spring practice to a close.

The first scoring play of the game came on a 98-yard passing play from Dan Marino to Larry Sims. At that early point, it appeared that the Varsity would thoroughly dominate the Alumni throughout the game. But as the final score indicates, the team with the potbellies and balding heads provided the Varsity with an "experienced" opponent.

After nearly matching the Varsity team score-for score in the first half, the old grads relinquished two unanswered touchdowns to the Varsity in the third quarter. Sims scored his second touchdown of the day on a 28-yard pass from Marino and later fullback Steve Harris ran for a 6-yard TD to widen the Varsity's margin to 21-9.

The Alumni did not go without their own hurrahs. The fourth quarter opened on a 15-yard touchdown grab by Jackie Sherrill from Dr. Bob Bazylak. Sherrill, who suited up in the second half, was left wide open in the endzone on a "trick" play.

Coaching the Alumni team were WTAE broadcasters Joe DeNardo, and Bill Hillgrove, the "Voice of the Panthers." Honorary Varsity coaches were Larry O'Brien and John Garry of WTAE-Radio.

The Alumni-Varsity spring football game is sponsored by the Pitt Golden Panthers.

The Ed Conway Memorial Award

Ed Conway was the "Voice of Pitt Football" four years before his untimely death in 1974. He was an honest, hard-working, professional sportscaster in the city of Pittsburgh for many years. Above all, Ed Conway was a friend.

In appreciation of his work and in keeping alive memories of him, Pitt football will present an award in his honor annually to the Most-Improved offensive and defensive player on the squad each Spring.

Games Notes: This is the Panthers' first visit to Lawrence, Kansas, in this brief series that Pitt leads, 2-0 . . . Kansas was one of two teams that the Panthers whitewashed last season when it shut out the Jayhawks in the home opener 24-0 . . . in that game fullback Randy McMillan had one of the more successful debuts of a Pitt running back when he rambled for 114 yards—110 of them in the first half . . . it also marked the debut of the freshman quarterback Dan Marino, who, in his first three collegiate passing attempts, suffered an interception in the endzone, an incomplection, and hooked up for a TD aerial in that order . . . the Pitt defense stifled the Kansas attack and set a 1979 NCAA season record by allowing -17 yards in total rushing by the Jayhawks . . . Pitt also came up on top in the '75 Sun Bowl—a victory that is generally looked upon as the launching pad for the Panthers' 1976 National Championship season . . . Kansas is the only Big Eight team that Pitt has met on the gridiron in the last four years . . . Pitt holds a 19-11 series edge over Big Eight opponents . . . Kansas is the furthest west the Panther team will travel in the 1980 regular season . . . in Don Fambrough's first year of his second tenure in '79 (his first tenure lasted from 1971-74) he guided Kansas to an overall 3-8 record and a 2-5 record in the conference—good for fifth place . . . Fambrough is recognized as an outstanding recruiter who, according to one coach, "could sell a freezer to an Eskimo" . . . Kansas has 48 lettermen but only 11 starters returning in 1980 . . . strength seems to be at wide receiver where first-team All-Big Eight selection David Verser returns, and at running back where Harry Sydney, another all-league pick, is back . . . pro football great John Hadl serves as offensive coordinator for the Jayhawks . . . the Pittsburgh game is Kansas' home opener . . . the Panthers and Jayhawks have two other common opponents in Louisville and Syracuse.

Games Notes: 1980 marks the seventh consecutive year that these two Eastern football powers have butted heads . . . Pitt owns a 7-1-1 advantage in the overall series started in 1938, but the Owls have been quite competitive in three of the last four years . . . in last year's contest Temple ran off more offensive plays and had a distinct total yardage advantage (303-vs-267), but came out on the short end of a 10-9 score when Pitt's Mark Schubert hit a 46-yard field goal with 3:53 remaining in the game . . . it was the second consecutive year the Panthers had to come from behind to defeat the Owls . . . the one point margin of victory was the closest outcome between these two Pennsylvania rivals since the 0-0 scoreless tie in 1946 . . . the Pitt defense has not given up more than two TDs to Temple in one game in the last five years . . . Pitt's 10 points against Temple in '79 was its second lowest point output for the season . . . in four of the last five years the Panthers have met the Owls in their third game of the season . . . Coach Wayne Hardin led his team to the best record in the University's history, capped with a victory over California in the Garden State Bowl . . . the Owls were ranked 17th in the final AP and UPI polls . . . Hardin also registered his 100 collegiate win in '79 . . . Temple loses 13 of 22 starters from 1979, but returns 29 lettermen . . . split end Gerald "Sweetfeet" Lucear led the nation in touchdown passes caught (13) last year . . . the Pitt game will be Temple's first road contest of the 1980 season . . . Pitt and Temple have four common opponents in Syracuse, Louisville, Penn State and WVU . . . in their last three visits to Pitt Stadium (1978, 76, 74) the Owls have given Pitt fits with the Panthers largest margin of victory being its 14-point cushion in 1978 . . . Pitt's Dan Marino didn't play at all in last year's contest . . . the last Panther quarterback to rush for 100 yards in one game was Rick Trocano when he maneuvered for 118 yards versus Temple at Pitt Stadium in 1978 . . . Temple is one of five 1979 bowl teams that Pitt will face in 1980 . . . Wayne Hardin is the winningest coach in Temple history (67-33-3).

Game Notes: After a 68 year hiatus, the Terps and Panthers meet again for only the second time in their football histories . . . their previous meeting resulted in one of the Panthers' most lopsided wins, 64-0 . . . a legitimate Eastern football power, Maryland must meet Pitt and Penn State on successive weekends this fall . . . to combat this kind of competition Coach Jerry Claiborne has 43 lettermen returning . . . a rash of injuries decimated Maryland's ranks in '79, but they still managed a second place finish in the ACC . . . Claiborne used 41 different players in the starting lineup . . . of the 22 different starters on offense, 13 are returning for the Terps . . . 17 of the 20 various defensive starters of last season will also be available for action in 1980 . . . defensively, the Terrapins ranked 8th nationally in 1979 in total defense and fourth in passing defense . . . they feature probably the nation's finest placekicker in 1979 consensus All-America Dale Castro . . . Castro hit on 76% of his FG attempts (17-21) in '79 and converted five attempts in a single game versus Mississippi . . . he also set a NCAA record by making 16 consecutive three-pointers . . . running back Charlie Wysocki was an honorable mention AA selection after rambling for 1,180 yards last fall . . . the Panthers hold a series edge over six of seven ACC opponents they've met, and have an overall 21-13 record against ACC competition . . . the sole Pitt loss last season came at the hands of ACC champion North Carolina . . . Maryland is one of the only three conference teams the Panthers play this season . . . at Maryland, Claiborne has won an incredible 80% of his ACC conference games . . . he is currently the president of the American Football Coaches Association.

Game Notes: This young series between two of the nation's top college football independents is knotted at two games apiece, the Panthers having won the last meeting in 1978, 7-3 at Pitt Stadium . . . Pitt has won the last two consecutive meetings . . . both teams were ranked very similarly in the final '79 polls—the Seminoles ranked sixth (AP) and eighth (UPI), and the Panthers ranked sixth (UPI) and seventh (AP) . . . this will be the only Pitt night game of the year . . . three years ago Sherrill's squad travelled to Florida for a similar evening affair, playing to a 17-17 tie with the U. of Florida in '77 . . . in their last meeting the Panthers recorded one of their more outstanding defensive performances in recent years by limiting the explosive Seminoles to a mere three points . . . Pitt's bookend defensive ends were instrumental in that showing as Ricky Jackson recorded 14 stops and one sack, while Hugh Green had nine tackles and one fumble recovery . . . this year's contest matches two of the nation's premier defensive performers in Green and FSU middle guard Ron Simmons . . . in '79 Simmons was a consensus All-America and semifinalist in the Lombardi Award voting—Coach Bowden freely admits the senior from Warner Robins, Ga., has done for the FSU football program what Tony Dorsett did at Pitt—bring the program national attention—one of the 'Cinderella' teams in '79, Florida State recorded its first undefeated regular season and received its first invitation to participate in a New Year's Day Bowl game . . . FSU advanced as high as fourth in the nation's top 20 polls along the way . . . Bowden took over at FSU in 1976 after guiding WVU to a 1975 Peach Bowl berth . . . his Mountaineer team that season was the last one to defeat a Pitt squad . . . ABC-TV and Chevrolet recognized the Bowden achievements last year when they named him "Division I Coach of the Year" . . . AP voted him Southern Independent Coach of the Year . . . The Tribe has eight defensive regulars and five offensive first-teamers returning . . . All-America DB Monk Bonasorte hails from Pittsburgh and is the brother of a former Panther special teams performer Chuck Bonasorte . . . this game will match 1979's two top independent football powers . . . the FSU contest will be one of only two games the Panthers will play on natural turf.

Game Notes: The Panthers have taken four consecutive contests from the Mountaineers, who, next to Penn State, are Pitt's oldest rival (1895) . . . the overall series stands at 49-22-1 in Pitt's favor . . . the bitterest of foes, WVU gave Pitt all it could handle last year before bowing 24-17 . . . that game was the last scheduled football contest played in Old Mountaineer Field . . . West Virginia debuts its new 50,000 seat stadium this season—also called Mountaineer Field . . . in last season's affair Pitt jumped to a 10-0 halftime lead, but then had to weather a 17-point second half outburst by the hosts . . . the Panthers picked off five West Virginia passes to stave off drives, including two by JoJo Heath . . . tight end Benjie Pryor's five grabs provided some of the spark for the Pitt offense . . . that game set a single game attendance record at old Mountaineer Field . . . in their last appearance at Pitt Stadium the Mounties were drubbed 52-7 . . . that was the most points scored by a Pitt team at Pitt Stadium since 1937 . . . West Virginia has a unique 12-game regular season schedule which features a game at Hawaii a week before they face the Panthers (NCAA regulations allow a 12th regular season game if that game is played outside the continental United States) . . . former Michigan assistant Don Nehlen takes control of the coaching reins and has at his disposal 21 of 24 '79 starters among the 38 lettermen returning . . . quarterback Oliver Luck developed into a solid performer by rushing over 400 yards, passing for almost 1300 more.

Games Notes: Pitt and Tennessee meet for their first time in two distinct, long and fabled football histories, and what a storybook confrontation it should be . . . Tennessee Coach Johnny Majors was the chief architect in the Pitt football renaissance—and his first lieutenant in that campaign was none other than Pitt Coach Jackie Sherrill . . . Majors as head coach and Sherrill as top assistant arrived from Iowa State after the '72 season and produced one of the most dramatic turnarounds in college football history by taking a team that was 1-10 in 1972 to the National Championship in 1976 . . . although Sherrill left in 1975 to take the coaching reins at Washington State, it was many of the athletes he helped recruit (including one Tony Dorsett) as Majors' chief recruiter that were instrumental in the '76 Championship . . . the two started their coaching association in 1968 when Sherrill joined Majors' staff at Iowa State . . . when Majors opted for Tennessee after the '76 season, Sherrill was a clear-cut choice for the Panther job . . . after taking the majority of the Pitt coaching staff with him when he left Pitt, the only present staff member working for Majors who was a part of the Panthers' last National Championship is head trainer Tim Kerin . . . with an expanded seating capacity of 90,150 Tennessee's Neyland Stadium will be the largest stadium the Panthers will play in this year . . . only Michigan with 101,000 seats is larger . . . the Vols are only the third SEC team that Pitt has met on the gridiron—the other two being Florida and Georgia . . . Pitt is only one of seven home games the Volunteers have scheduled for 1980 . . . Majors returns 45 lettermen including 11 starters from last year's 7-5 squad that lost to Purdue in the Bluebonnet Bowl . . . that was Majors' first winning season at Tennessee . . . among the returnees is tight end Reggie Harper, a first-team ALL-SEC, and second team All-America performer in 1979 . . . each team will enter the contest coming off a traditionally tough struggle—Pitt must face archrival West Virginia the week before, while Tennessee plays host to Alabama . . . Vol fullback James Berry is a cousin to Pitt's Hugh Green and attended the same high school in Natchez, Mississippi . . . Pitt is the only independent that the Vols meet this fall . . . Panthers Larry Sims, Willie Collier, and Dave Bucklew were all frosh under Majors in his last year at Pitt.

Game Notes: For the fourth consecutive year in 1979 the Orangemen proved no easy squeeze for the Panthers, bowing 28-21 in front of an ABC regional TV audience . . . in that game, like the previous three, the issue wasn't decided until well into the fourth quarter . . . Pitt has won seven consecutive times in this series dating back to 1916 and holds a 20-13-2 series edge . . . in two of the last three years the Panthers have prevailed 28-21, and the average margin of victory in their last four defeats of the Orange has been just over six points per game . . . in last season's game Pitt defensive back Terry White made the key plays—returning a punt 85 yards for a TD and recovering a fumble . . . his efforts earned him Chevrolet Defensive-Player-of-the-Game honors . . . quarterback Dan Marino clicked on 69% of his passes (18-26) for 170 yards and two TDs to lead the Panthers' offensive parade . . . Syracuse QB Bill Hurley finished a very productive career versus Pitt by rushing for three TDs and leading the Orange to 15 more offensive plays, 35 more total yards, and a nearly 10 minute advantage in time of possession . . . last year Syracuse was an Independence Bowl participant, SU's first bowl appearance since 1967 . . . the Orange's seven wins were their most since 1968 . . . after playing all 'road' games in '79, SU finally moves into a new domed stadium, the 50,000 seat Carrier Dome . . . it's the largest university-owned facility of its type in the United States . . . Pitt is one of seven home games the Orange will host . . . it will mark the Panthers' third appearance in a domed stadium—having defeated Georgia in the 1976 Sugar Bowl and Tulane in 1978—both in the Louisiana SuperDome . . . the 1978 Pitt-Syracuse game was the last contest played in ancient Archbold Stadium . . . Pitt and Syracuse have five common opponents in Kansas, Temple, Penn State, Boston College and WVU . . . Coach Frank Maloney has 35 returning lettermen including seven starters on offense and seven on defense . . . halfback Joe Morris has had back-to-back 1,000 yard seasons, and was the seventh leading NCAA rusher in '79 and third leading all-purpose runner . . . on defense linebacker Jim Collins was AP All-East last season and honorable mention—along with Morris—All-America . . . Dave Warner and redshirt Tim Wilson should fight it out for Hurley's vacated slot at QB . . . the Pitt-Syracuse series has been a consecutive one since 1955.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Teams last met in 1976.

Lettermen Returning: 29

Lettermen Lost: 19

Top Backs: FB Greg Hickman, CB Leon Williams, LB Eddie Johnson

Top Linemen: OT Joe Jacoby, OG Greg Dimoff, OG Steve Cupito, C Jim Miller, DT Dan Dihtzeruk

Top Newcomers: None listed

Game Notes: This is only the second meeting between these two football independents, the first coming in 1976 in which the Panthers prevailed 27-6 . . . It was that game that launched the Cinderella career of Pitt QB Tom Yewcic . . . Yewcic, a former walkon and ninth string quarterback, replaced an injured Matt Cavanaugh in that contest and proceeded to guide the Panthers to three consecutive wins during that National Championship season . . . the Panthers are again scheduled to meet the Cardinals in 1982 at Pitt Stadium before making their first visit to Louisville during the 1983 season . . . '79 head coach Vince Gibbons moved on to Tulane, leaving the head coaching duties to Bob Weber, formerly the Cardinals' offensive coordinator . . . he welcomes back eight starters on offense and four on defense, included among the 29 returning lettermen . . . Eddie Johnson is an All-America candidate at linebacker in the mold of the Cardinals' '79 All-America linebacker Otis Wilson . . . anchoring the defensive front is tackle Dan Dihtzeruk, a Pittsburgh native who played at suburban Churchill High School . . . fullback Greg Hickman is back after leading the Red Rage in rushing in '79 with 648 yards despite playing much of the season with a partially separated shoulder . . . Pitt is one of eight independents on the Cardinal schedule . . . their only common opponent is Temple, which the Cardinals face a week before they come to Pittsburgh . . . Louisville is one of five teams that the Panthers have faced less than five times in their gridiron history—the others are Maryland, Florida State, Tennessee and Kansas . . . Weber takes over the head coaching chores, having had experience at three levels of football . . . he was National JC Coach-of-the-Year in 1963, was an assistant coach at Montreal in the Canadian Football League, and has also served as an assistant on the collegiate level at Colorado State, Arizona, Kansas State and Louisville.

Games Notes: The Panthers' 40-0 trouncing of Army last season was their most lopsided victory of the year . . . that win was Pitt's sixth consecutive one over the Cadets and they lead the overall series 15-6-2 . . . Army's last win in the series was in 1971 at Michie Stadium . . . with 476 total yards the Panthers exploded for their largest offensive output of '79 . . . leading the charge was QB Dan Marino who split the airways for 272 yards (17 for 30)—the 10th highest single game passing performance in Pitt history . . . the Cadets had only 67 net yards in total offense—an incredible -9 yards in the passing department with only one completion . . . Rooster Jones scored twice to lead Pitt . . . two years ago Pitt defensive back Jeff Delaney completed one of the longest plays in NCAA history when he picked off an airborne fumble at the Panthers' one-foot line and raced 99 yards for a TD . . . for three consecutive years Pitt has accepted a bowl bid just after defeating an Army team; in 1977 it was a Gator Bowl invitation, in 1978 a Tangerine Bowl bid, and last year the Panthers' accepted a Fiesta Bowl invitation immediately after the Army contest . . . Pitt is one of seven home games for the Cadets . . . the Panthers have visited West Point for two consecutive years—'79 and '80 . . . eight starters returning on offense and six returning on defense . . . these are among the 32 total lettermen welcomed back . . . looking to replace graduated QB Earl Mulrane are three candidates—Jerryl Bennet, the only letterman of the trio, Bob Ryan and T.D. Decker . . . Decker's only varsity experience came when he started versus Navy in last season's finale . . . both the '79 leading groundgainer, full-back Jimmy Hill, and pass catcher, Mike Fahnestock, are expected to return . . . these two Eastern football rivals have only one other common opponent on their two schedules—Boston College . . . for Army, the Pitt game is sandwiched in between their battles with the two other service academies, Air Force and Navy . . . the Cadets have born the brunt of some of the Panther's better offensive performances in recent years—in their last six meetings Pitt has averaged over 40 points per contest . . . interestingly, Army holds the record for highest total offense by a Pitt opponent (647 yards in 1944) in one game, and was also victim in 1975 when the Panthers set a team record for the highest total offense by a Pitt team in one game (610 yards).

RECORDS AND STATISTICS

Ninety Years of Panthers

Pitt football got off to a humble beginning back in 1890. Only three games were played that year and the record read a modest 1-2.

A winning record wasn't recorded until 1900, a decade later, and from then on, things began steamrolling for the Panthers.

In 1904 the Panthers, led by Joe Thompson of World War I fame, registered an undefeated 10-0 record, the School's first spotless mark. Thompson took over as coach after graduation and in 1910 the team produced an undefeated (9-0), untied, and unscored upon season. Under Joe Duff, brother of the former U.S. Senator, the Panthers lost only once in 1914 and set the stage for the legendary Glenn Scobey 'Pop' Warner in 1915.

Under Warner, the Panthers were 59-11-4 from 1915 to 1923. During this time the Panthers put together some formidable winning streaks. Warner's teams won their first 31 consecutive games, until W & J beat Pitt 13-10 in 1919. Counting the last two wins in 1914, the Panthers undefeated streak lasted 33 games.

In 1916, the Pitt team came up with an innovation for which millions of football fans have since given thanks. In addition to being undefeated, the Panthers were the first team to wear uniform numbers.

During Warner's tenure, Pitt's first All-America appeared. Bob Peck reached that status in 1914 and again in 1915 and 1916 to become a three-time All-America. Peck was rated one of the great all-time performers at center. Halfback Tom Davies and tackle Leonard Hilty (both 1918) were two other stars of that era.

Famous then, and more famous later, were a big Scotch guard/end and 1917 team captain, Jock Sutherland; Dr. H. C. Carlson, who went on to coach basketball at Pitt for 31 years; and Tiny Thornhill, who went to coach Stanford's Rose Bowl teams.

Following Warner, Sutherland began a 15-year regime in 1924. It began slowly, but ended with the Panthers ensconced among the mighty.

Sutherland recorded an incredible 111-20-12 record, including National Championships in 1929, 1931, 1934, 1936, and 1937. Coupled with Warner's three National Championships (1915, 1916, and 1918), the Panthers had won eight National Titles in 47 years. Pitt didn't add another title until 1976, to give the School a total of nine and place them 5th among all schools in NCAA history. These feats deeply entrench the Panthers as a truly great all-time college power. Sutherland's tenure also included four Rose Bowl trips, winning the 1937 game over Washington.

As should be expected with this kind of winning football, many performers won individual All-America acclamation: Ralph Chase, tackle, 1925; Gibby Welch, halfback, 1927; Mike Betto, tackle, 1928; Ray Montgomery, guard and Joe Donchess, end, 1929; Jess Quatse, tackle, 1931; Warren Heller, halfback, 1932; Joe Skladany, end, 1933; Doc Hartwig, guard, and George Shotwell, center, 1934; Averell Daniell, tackle, 1935; Marshall Goldberg, halfback, and Tony Matisi, tackle, 1937; and Goldberg and Bill Daddio, end, in 1938 all received All-America recognition during this period.

Sutherland left in 1938 and with his departure the Pitt program didn't have another winning season for a decade. Of course, during that time World War II took a bit out of everyone's program. After the War, however, it didn't take the Panthers long to get back in the winning swing of things. Mike Milligan turned in a winning record, the first in ten years, in 1948 and again in 1949. Milligan resigned in 1950 and he was replaced by Len Casanova who also departed the following summer. In 1951 Athletic Director Tom Hamilton took over in 1952. Ill health caused Dawson to step down in 1954 where Tom Hamilton took over once again for the remainder of the season. Hamilton handed the job to John Micheloson in 1955. Hamilton and Micheloson steered the team toward a winning direction. The 1955 season brought a 7-3 record and Sugar Bowl invitation (the Panthers dropped a close 7-0 game to Georgia Tech). The Gator Bowl followed in 1956 after a 7-2-1 season, but the Panthers hovered around the .500 mark until 1962.

During this stretch in history, numerous other Pitt Panthers attained All-America status. Ralph Fife, 1941; Bernie Barkouski, 1949; Joe Schmidt, 1952, all were touted as guards. Eldred Kraemer, tackle, 1952; Joe Walton, end, 1956; John Guzik, guard, 1958; and Mike Ditka at end in 1960 were also All-Americans.

Then came 1963. The Panthers finished with a 9-1 record and were ranked third in the country. Paul Martha and Ernie Borghetti won first team All-America rating during this memorable year.

After losing seasons in 1964 and 1965, Micheloson was replaced by Dave Hart in 1966. Hart undertook an extensive recruiting campaign and quickly gained the reputation as one of the finest recruiters in Pitt history. Unfortunately, the squads didn't perform well on the field, and he resigned after three years and a 3-27 record.

He was replaced in 1969 by former Pitt player and assistant coach, Carl DePasqua. In four years, DePasqua brought the Panthers respectability but was unable to establish a winner. He was released after a 1-10 record in 1972, giving him an overall mark of 13-29.

The losing trend caused the University to take a close look at its football program and a number of improvements were instituted. One of the country's brightest young football coaches, Johnny Majors, was hired and the program took an immediate upturn. In his first season, Majors took Pitt to its first winning season in ten years (6-4-1) and its first Bowl appearance (Fiesta Bowl) in 17 seasons. Majors improved that mark to 7-4 and a second place ranking in the East in his second year. Gary Burley, middle guard, won first-team All-America touting. In 1975 Pitt finished 8-4, went to the Sun Bowl, and was nationally ranked 13th by UPI.

This three-year growth served to set the stage for the 1976 season. The Panthers completed perhaps one of the most dramatic turnarounds in college football history in 1976—from 1-10 in 1972 to 12-0 and a National Championship in 1976. Tony Dorsett won the Heisman Trophy and first team All-America selection for the third year. Middle guard Al Romano won honors for the first time. Other Panthers (Jim Corbett, tight end; Tom Brzoza, guard, Jimbo Cramer, linebacker; Bob Jury; safety; and Carson Long, kicker) made second and third team All-America in 1976. Majors was named Coach-of-the-Year for the second time (1973) and the Panthers received just about every trophy available designating Eastern and National supremacy. Not since 1937 had the Panthers been able to call themselves Unanimous National Champion.

After Pitt's 27-3 win in the Sugar Bowl, Jackie Sherrill replaced Majors as coach. Majors opted to return to his alma mater, Tennessee. Sherrill, who was a Majors' assistant at Pitt for three years and was instrumental as an architect in the Pitt rebuilding job, left after the 1975 season to coach Washington State for a year (3-8) and readily returned to Pitt when the offer was made. He found himself in the strange role of inheriting a team coming off the National Championship.

But, in a pressure-packed atmosphere, Sherrill came through. He sustained the lofty heights that the Pitt program had reached. The Panthers were ranked 7th and 8th on the polls, registered a 9-2-1 record, and beat Clemson 34-3 to cop the Gator Bowl Championship. The Panthers had four first-team All-Americans (Randy Holloway, Matt Cavanaugh, Bob Jury and Tom Brzoza), which was the most by any team in the country.

In addition, eight Pitt gridgers were chosen in the NFL draft—tied with Notre Dame for the highest number of any college team.

With such heavy losses by graduation, Sherrill had a rebuilding job to do. And it was a young team in 1978 that registered an 8-4 record and accepted a Tangerine Bowl bid (Losing to North Carolina State 30-17). The bowl trip was the fourth consecutive by a Pitt team and the fifth in six years. Hugh Green and Gordon Jones were selected first team All-America.

In 1979, Sherrill's Panthers came through again, posting an 11-1 record and a Gator Bowl win. The team was ranked sixth in the country and helped Coach Jackie Sherrill win "Eastern Coach-of-the-Year" honors and boost his three-year record to 28-7-1, making him the winningest three-year coach in Pitt history.

Sherrill's 1980 squad returns 50 lettermen, including 16 starters from 1979, to give the 91st season of Pitt football an optimistic base to build on.

Pitt Hall of Fame Awardees

Thus far the University of Pittsburgh has had nine players, one coach and one player-coach elected to the National Hall of Fame. Jock Sutherland, a great guard from 1914 through 1917 and Pitt's brilliantly successful coach from 1924 through 1938, was elected in 1953, being among the first coaches named.

In 1954 Bob Peck, Pitt's first All-American (center in 1915 and 1916), was elected as the first Pitt player to have his name placed on the honor roll.

In 1958, Marshall Goldberg, an All-American halfback in 1937 and an All-American fullback in 1938, was elected.

In 1965, George McLaren, an All-America fullback in 1917 and 1918, was elected.

In 1967, Herb Stein, an All-America center in 1921, was elected.

In 1970, Tom Davies, an All-America halfback in 1918 and 1920, was elected.

In 1971, Joe Thompson, outstanding player-coach from 1904-1912, was elected.

In 1973, Hube Wagner, brilliant end and running back from 1910-1913, and Herb McCracken, back and lineman from 1918-20, were elected.

In 1975, Averell Daniell, All-America tackle in 1936, and Joe Skladany, All-America end in 1932 and 1933, were elected.

In 1979, Joe Donchess, All-America end in 1929, was elected.

Jock Sutherland

Dr. John Bain (Jock) Sutherland was a great player and coach at Pitt.

Entering Pitt within a few years after he left his native Scotland, he was a regular guard on the great Pitt teams of 1914-1917—teams that lost but one game during the entire period.

Upon graduation, with a dental degree in 1918, he went into the service, coached the Camp Greenleaf Team with the AEF, then came back to the coaching job at Lafayette. Four years later, in 1924, he replaced Pop Warner at Pitt, and after getting the foundation laid, put the Panthers back into the first line again.

There were national titles in 1927, 1929, 1936 and 1937; Eastern honors in 1925, 1927, 1929, 1931, 1932, 1934, 1936, and 1937. Rose Bowl appearances in 1928, 1930 and 1933, climaxed with a win in 1937. All-Americans were turned out with regularity during this period.

Leaving Pitt in 1939, he coached Brooklyn in 1940 and 1941, then went into the Navy. Upon his return he took over the Pittsburgh Steelers, giving them their greatest day until recent history. He died unexpectedly in the Spring of 1948.

Bob Peck

Bob Peck was Pitt's initial first team All-America, being selected by Walter Camp in 1915 and 1916. In both of these years Pitt was undefeated, and in his sophomore year, 1914, the Panthers lost only one game.

He was captain of the 1916 Pitt team that is rated among the greatest of all time, both at Pitt and in the nation. Playing under Pop Warner, Pitt's coach during his last two years, he was a terrific roving center of the old variety, and an accurate passing center who could lead the speedy Pitt backs on the famous single and double wing attack which Warner was then perfecting.

After his graduation he moved to Culver Military Academy where he was athletic director and head coach until his unexpected death in 1934.

Marshall Goldberg

Marshall Goldberg came to Pitt from Elkins, West Virginia, and for the three years of his varsity career was the most highly publicized and popular back in Pitt history until Tony Dorsett came along.

These three years, coincidental with Jock Sutherland's last three as Pitt's head coach, saw the Panthers win a national title, a Rose Bowl game, and two eastern championships.

In two years as the regular left halfback Goldberg was the leading scorer and leading ground gainer, and then, moving to fullback with the famous Dream Backfield of 1938, he became a terrific blocker and power back, despite his relative lack of weight (185). He was a defensive expert during his three years and starred at this phase when he went into pro ball.

On campus he was a member of Phi Epsilon Pi, national social fraternity, and ODK, national honorary leadership society.

Upon graduation he played pro ball and was in the insurance business in Chicago, served nearly four years as a line officer in the Navy, and then finished his pro career with the Chicago Cardinals when they won their first title. He is owner of Marshall Goldberg Machine Tools, Ltd., of Rosemont, IL.

George McLaren

George McLaren, who came to Pitt from Peabody High School, is considered the greatest fullback in the school's history.

He played four years, 1915-1918, and during this period, the Panthers compiled a 29-0 record. McLaren was captain of the 1918 team. McLaren scored 13 touchdowns in 1917 and also holds the one-season rushing mark by a Pitt fullback with 782 yards. He also holds the longest run from scrimmage, 92 yards in 1917. He was never stopped without making a gain during his intercollegiate career.

McLaren also was a member of the basketball team for two years and a performer on the track squad for two campaigns. He was elected a Varsity Letterman of Distinction.

McLaren resided in the Baltimore area before his death in 1965.

Herb Stein

Herb Stein came to Pitt from Warren, Ohio, and for four years was one of the greatest offensive and defensive centers in Panther history.

A member of the great "Pop" Warner teams in 1918-21, he was named as a first-team All-American in 1921. During his four years, Pitt won 21, lost five and tied four. His brother, Russ, was also an All-American tackle at Washington & Jefferson.

Now a highly successful business executive, Stein owns and operates nine corporations. He resides in Cleveland.

Tom Davies

A two-time All-American halfback, Tom Davies ranks as one of Pitt's greatest backs. After prepping at Kiski, Davies entered Pitt in 1918 and was named on the last Walter Camp's All-America team as a freshman under Glenn Scobie (Pop) Warner. Davies was a regular for four seasons and was again named All-America in 1920. He holds three Pitt punt return records and ranks second in the all-time total yards gained department with 3,931 yards.

Following graduation from Pitt, Tom sent 25 years as a coach at Penn, Geneva, Allegheny, Rochester, Kiski, Scranton and Western Reserve.

Davies died four years ago.

Joe Thompson

The late Joe Thompson, outstanding player-coach at Pitt from 1904-1912, was elected to the Hall of Fame in 1971. A native of Beaver Falls, Pa., Thompson came to Pitt in 1904 (after attending Geneva) and led the Panthers to their first undefeated season. In compiling a 10-0 record, Pitt gave up only five points to opponents. He captained the team in 1905 and in his three years the Panthers achieved an excellent 26-6 mark.

After taking over the coaching chores in 1908, Thompson compiled a four-year record of 30-14-2. His 1910 team was not only undefeated (9-0) but also unscored upon.

Hube Wagner

Hube Wagner came to Pitt from Monaca High School in 1910 and immediately became a member of the great Panther team which went undefeated, untied and unscored upon. While primarily an end, he filled in at every other position except quarterback because of his great versatility.

When old timers talk of all-time Pitt greats Wagner's name always comes early in the conversations. Competing against such opponents as Notre Dame, Penn State, the famous Carlisle Indians, Navy, Cornell, West Virginia, Bucknell, etc., he was sensational because of wild tackling and his powerful ball carrying. He never, however, made the Walter Camp All-America team because that famous selector did not see Pitt play until 1915.

He became an outstanding surgeon and for 12 years was a member of the University Board of Trustees. He was also elected a Varsity Letterman of Distinction.

Wagner died in 1979.

Herb McCracken

Herb McCracken, a native of Sewickley, was one of the most versatile and also one of the lightest football players in Pitt history. He made up in football instinct and desire for any lack of size, and those same attributes made him a successful coach.

He was a varsity player under Pop Warner from 1918-20, participating at halfback, fullback, guard, end and center. He also played three years of basketball, captaining the team his senior year.

He went on to achieve outstanding coaching records at Allegheny College and Lafayette. Herb left coaching in 1935 to co-found Scholastic Magazine, Inc. He has served as a trustee of both Pitt and Lafayette. He is a Varsity Letterman of Distinction.

Joe Donchess

Last fall, Dr. Joseph C. Donchess became the 11th former Pitt football player to be inducted (posthumously) into the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame.

A standout end for Coach Jock Sutherland from 1927-29, Joe was an integral cog on a team that went 23-4-2 during his career. In 1929, when the Panthers went 9-1 and won the the National Championship, Donchess was voted first-team All-America. Giving additional credence to his prowess, Joe is a member of Pitt's All-Time Team (1910-1978).

After his undergraduate days at Pitt, Joe attended the Pitt School of Medicine and became a doctor in 1932. While attending medical school, he also coached the Pitt football team from 1930-32. He coached the ends for Dartmouth from 1933-37 while doing graduate work in their school of medicine. After Dartmouth, he began a successful career as an orthopaedic surgeon.

A pillar of the community, Donchess belonged to numerous professional organizations, including the American College of Surgeons. He was a member of the Rotary Club, the Chamber of Commerce and was the Chief Surgeon for United States Steel at Gary, Indiana.

He was a member of Phi Delta Theta, Nu Sigma Nu, and the Druids at Pitt, and his name is on the OKD walk. Donchess was a big contributor to the University for over 30 years and from 1960-62 was the Chairman of the Pitt Annual Giving Fund.

During his career, he wrote numerous articles for medical publications.

In recognition of this very special contributions, the Pitt football training room—inside Gate 3 at Pitt Stadium—was dedicated in his memory.

He died just over two years ago.

Ave Daniell

Averell Daniell, a member of the football team from 1934-36, captained the 1936 Pitt Rose Bowl championship team and was a consensus All-America standout on the line that was regarded as the best forward wall in Pitt history.

He then went on to play professionally with the Green Bay Packers. Following that he was a line coach at Dartmouth and at West Point before entering the Navy in WWII.

Following the War, he entered business and worked his way up to Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of the Alloy Manufacturing Company, a supplier to the Navy's nuclear propulsion program. That company later merged with Ionics, Inc., and Daniell now serves as its President.

A graduate of Mt. Lebanon High School, Ave majored in business administration at Pitt. He has been very active in the recent resurgence of Pitt athletics, and served as President of the Pitt Golden Panthers in 1974.

Joe Skladany

Joe Skladany was credited with helping Jock Sutherland build a great winning tradition at Pitt and earned first team All-America honors in 1933 and 1934. He played both offensive and defensive end.

At 205 pounds, Skladany played the strong side on the Panthers' unbalanced offensive line and anchored the defensive line from his defensive end position. With Joe leading the way, the 1933 defense allowed a mere two touchdowns en route to an 8-1 record. During his stay at Pitt, the Panthers posted a 24-3-2 record.

Skladany was elected to the Pioneer Division of the Hall of Fame, the section reserved for athletes who starred before 1934.

Following his college career, Skladany went on to become principal owner of the Pittsburgh Paperback Corporation. Prior to his death four years ago, Joe was quite active in Pittsburgh's community affairs.

(The All-Time Team was originally picked in 1958. In 1968 it was updated by a special panel headed by then Sports Editor of the Pittsburgh Press, Chet Smith. In the summer of 1979, the team was updated again by a special panel of Pittsburgh sportswriters, broadcasters and knowledgeable Pitt football followers. Naturally there will be arguments but that's expected. The last year the player performed is in parenthesis.)

Pitt Ranks 6th in National Championships

Elusive. Cantankerous. Agonizing. Dreadful. Wonderful. These are all adjectives used to describe that holiest of grails in college football—the search for No. 1.

To settle countless arguments Sports Illustrated in 1970 researched the first and only complete and wholly accurate list ever compiled of college football's mythical national champions. Every recognized authority that ever presumed to name a No. 1 is included. They include Parke H. Davis Ratings (1889-1935), the Helms Athletic Foundation (1889-1970), the Dickinson System (1924-1940), the Illustrated Football Annual (1924-1941), The Football Thesaurus (1927-1958), the Dunkel System (1929-1970), the Litkenhous System (1934-1970), the Williamson System (1932-1963), the Associated Press (1936-1970), the United Press International (1950-1970), the Football Writers Association of America (1954-1970), and the National Football Hall of Fame (1959-1970).

In all of college football, only 42 different schools have claimed a national championship, and only 28 have managed to win two national titles. As shown below the University of Pittsburgh is 5th to properly rank as one of the nation's all time great football names.

Jock Sutherland (1924-38)

Dr. John Bain "Jock" Sutherland played under Pop Warner on one of the greatest teams in Pitt football history. Sutherland became the winningest head coach in Pitt history with 111 victories in all. His teams won the National Championship in 1927, 29, 36 and 37 and Eastern titles in 1925, 27, 29, 31, 32, 34, 36 and 37. His overall coaching record was an amazing 111-20-12.

Charles W. Bowser (1939-42)

Charles W. Bowser was a product of Jock Sutherland. A discontinuation of scholarships during World War II had bearing on Bowser's squads from 1939-42. Team captains were not even selected during those War years. Bowser compiled an overall 14-20-1 record.

Walter Milligan (1947-49)

Walter S. Milligan turned around a poor seasonal record in 1947 of 1-8, to revitalize the Panthers with 6-3 record in '48 and '49. The Ohio State game of 1949 is one of the most memorable in Panther history when Pitt fumbled a kick return late in the game allowing the Buckeyes to take a 14-10 edge. Milligan finished his tenure was 13-14 overall record.

Tom Hamilton
(1951-1954)

Tom Hamilton acquired the nickname "Captain" from his days as Captain in the Navy. Hamilton served as both head football coach and athletic director at Pitt for a number of years of both combined and separate duties. He filled in for Red Dawson during mid-season when Dawson became ill in 1954. His record overall was 3-7; the season of Dawson's illness was 4-5.

Carl DePasqua (1969-72)

Carl A. DePasqua led the Panther squad from 1969-72. During that period, Pitt pulled out of the Big Four Agreement that had limited the Panthers, WVU, Penn State and Syracuse to 100 men on each team. DePasqua was also an outstanding fullback at Pitt and played in the Blue-Gray game in 1949. His overall coaching record was 13-29.

John Majors (1973-76)

Majors is commonly known as the architect of the modern Pitt football renaissance. Under Majors, the Panthers played in the Fiesta Bowl (1973), the Sun Bowl (1975) and won the National Championship in the Sugar Bowl against Georgia in 1976. Pitt's only Heisman Trophy winner, Tony Dorsett, played under Majors. Majors left Pitt with an overall record of 33-13-1.

The 1980 Pitt Cheerleaders

The award-winning Pitt cheerleading squad looks forward to the coming football season with increased excitement. The Panthers are the only cheerleading squad in the northeast to be ranked nationally in the "top twenty" among collegiate cheerleading squads. The Pitt squad occupies a position of leadership among its opponents, both in skill and excitement.

Pitt's cheerleading squad has remained in the top twenty for four consecutive years, finishing 10th, 3rd, 16th and 17th respectively. No other cheerleading squad in this part of the country can boast that outstanding record!

The Panthers are coached by Karen Agostinella. Mrs. Agostinella is assisted by former Panther cheerleader Mike Sambuco, who is in his second year as assistant coach.

Karen Agostinella

Head Cheerleading Coach

Karen Agostinella begins her sixth year as head coach of the Pitt cheerleading squad. In the past five years, Mrs. Agostinella has gained a national reputation and is highly respected for her fine work in the development of collegiate cheerleading. A graduate of Slippery Rock State College, Karen is a physical education instructor in a suburban Pittsburgh school district. A native of Hopewell, PA, Karen and her husband Mike (the Pitt men's track coach), share their home with a very large basset hound named Katy.

The Pitt Panther Marching Band

Composed of 192 instrumentalists and 16 Golden Girls, the Pitt Band is considered among the finest marching bands in the country and serves as a vital tool for generating fan enthusiasm at sporting events. Its musical quality, marching expertise and imaginative football half-time shows are reasons which have led to the Band's national recognition.

A hard-working crew that travels with the football team at least twice a year, the Band has also traveled to four of Pitt's last five bowl games. On December 26, 1975, the Band performed at the Sun Bowl; On January 1, 1977, it performed at the Sugar Bowl with Chuck Mangione and Peter Fountain; on December 31, 1977 it performed at the Gator Bowl; and on December 24, 1978 it worked with Anita Bryant at the Tangerine Bowl.

Other musical organizations in the Division of University Bands include the Concert Band, Wind Ensemble and the Solid Gold jazz-rock band.

The band staff includes: Director of Bands Donald E. Hower, Associate Director of Bands Vincent A. Biancucci, Music Arranger Joe Campus and Choreographer Larry Cervi.

Donald E. Hower

Director of Bands

A native Pennsylvanian, Don Hower holds degrees from Ohio State and Temple University. Prior to coming to Pitt, he was the assistant director of the Ohio State University Marching Band and also taught trombone at Ohio State. During the fall, Hower directs the marching and concert bands, as well as taking care of all administrative work for the band program. During the winter months, he directs the concert and "Solid Gold" jazz bands, as well as visiting local schools to carry on an extensive recruiting campaign on behalf of the University Bands. Hower has served as a clinician, adjudicator and private instructor in the Tri-State area.

Pitt Stadium-Home of the Panthers

Not until 1925 did Pitt football teams have a home to call their own.

Prior to that, Pitt teams played football at Forbes Field, old home of the Pittsburgh Pirates, from 1909-1924. The newly-completed Forbes Quadrangle (which houses several departments and classrooms), bordered by Roberto Clemente Drive, now stands on the old Forbes Field site.

From 1890 to 1908, the Pirates played at various ballparks, but mostly old Exposition Park on the North Side, in the general vicinity of Three Rivers Stadium.

In 1925 Pitt Stadium was dedicated and the football teams have called it home ever since. With a present seating capacity of 56,500, Pitt Stadium is generally considered one of the finest spectator-viewing stadiums in the East. Every seat in the oval-shaped structure is a good one for football.

The structure has basically remained the same over the years, but many adjustments have been made that make Pitt Stadium one of the truly complete college sports complexes around.

The interior of the 54-year-old bowl is painted bright blue and gold, contrasting with the dark green Astro-Turf playing surface and the red-brick colored 440-yard all-weather Tartan track. The Stadium sports a new Astro-Turf surface, installed in the summer of 1977. The original Astro-Turf surface was put in in 1969.

The Stadium became a more efficient and more attractive edifice in 1978. First, a new coaching office complex was opened. The two-floor office, reception, conference room and workout area now houses the entire football staff.

In addition, a brand new, spacious and more efficient Ticket Office Headquarters was opened at Gate 1 last year. More offices are planned for the Stadium in the future.

Vast improvement on the seating was also completed last summer with a comprehensive two-year program to completely refurbish the seating. Adding greatly to the comfort of the fan, the old seats were removed, the concrete base was touched up and sealed and new aluminum seats were installed. Half of the Stadium was completed after the 1977 season and the other half was done in 1979.

Opened in 1925 at a cost of $2,125,000, the Stadium originally seated 67,000. Various seats were removed to provide better access. The present capacity is 56,500. The Stadium plant itself encompasses 10 acres with an outer circumference of one-half mile. The Stadium also houses the band, the track team and a general reception area.

The first game at the Stadium was played in 1925 when Pitt defeated Washington & Lee 28-0. During the next four seasons, the Panthers played 30 of their 34 games there.

The single game attendance record was set in 1938, when 68,918 fans jammed every corner of the Stadium to see Pitt beat Fordham 24-13. The interest was at a peak for that game since the two teams had played to consecutive scoreless ties the three previous years.

In 1977, 287,867 fans saw the Panthers play in six games. That total is the highest for a single season. The average per game attendance record was set in 1978, however, in five home encounters when an average of 49,472 fans attended.

Scoreboard Keeps You Entertained and Informed

Since 1978, Pitt fans have been entertained and informed by a modern animated scoreboard in the south endzone of the stadium.

The two men who have designed the unique displays such as the animated hamburger chomping its way from left to right across the scoreboard (the "Big Mac Attack," of course) are Ron Morris and Rick Roth, owners of information and Systems Research, Inc., an Airport Area-based software services organization specializing in small business computer systems for manufacturers, wholesalers, and retailers.

The actual computer used to operate the scoreboard is a 32KW (memory size) PDP 11/03 central processing unit (CPU), which is manufactured by the Digital Equipment Corporation (DEC) of Maynard, MA.

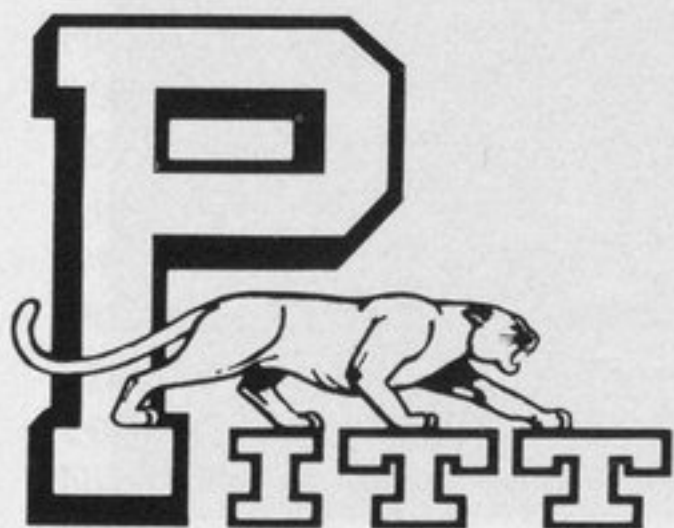

The scoreboard itself consists of a row by 120 column matrix of light bulbs. It principally runs on the same basis as your home television. The on/off pattern of lights is controlled by the software programs written by Morris and Roth, who are located in the pressbox computer room.

Most programs are created prior to gametime, but occasionally, they are written and tested during the game, prior to display on the board itself.

Morris and Roth are always working on new ideas and animations for the Panther games and spend generally 6-10 hours of preparation time for each game.

The Pitt scoreboard is sponsored by Equibank and Westinghouse.

Why Panthers?

The Panther (felis concolor) was adopted as the University of Pittsburgh's mascot at a meeting of student and alumni leaders in the early autumn of 1909. According to George M. P. Baird, '09, who made the suggestion, it was chosen for the following reasons: (1) the Panther was the most formidable creature once indigenous to the Pittsburgh region; (2) it had ancient, heraldic standing as a noble animal; (3) the happy accident of alliteration; (4) the close approximation of its hue to the old gold of the University's colors (old gold and blue), hence its easy adaptability in decoration; and (5) the fact that no other college or university then employed it as a symbol.

The University of Pittsburgh

Just about 200 years ago, both the City of Pittsburgh and the University of Pittsburgh were in a state of infancy. Through the years, they have simultaneously grown tall; together, hand in hand, they have been dependent upon, and complementary to, each other.

That's quite a relationship the city and the university have nurtured in their respective developments.

Take note. The University of Pittsburgh was first chartered in 1787 as Pittsburgh Academy. Less than 50 enrollees comprised the student body. In 1789, Pittsburgh's official population was listed at less than 500.

My, they've come a long way from those humble beginnings.

Today, Pittsburgh houses controlling interests of over $30 billion in assets. Of the top 500 corporate headquarters in the country, Pittsburgh is home to 14—ranking third nationally behind only New York and Chicago. Of the top 1,000 corporate headquarters in the land, Pittsburgh houses 25.

Pittsburgh is the hub around which the economy of the northeast quadrant of the United States revolves. Geographically, Pittsburgh is 370 miles from New York, 454 miles from Chicago, 220 miles from Buffalo, 125 miles from Cleveland and 231 miles from Washington DC. Pittsburgh is also the 10th largest media outlet center in the country.

Pittsburgh is a big-time city.

As the city evolved to its present stature, so did the university. In fact, the university played a vital role in that evolution. With industry hungering for qualified personnel to fill its needs, the University fed, and continues to feed, thousands upon thousands of technical and professional degrees into its bloodstream. Pitt has championed the city academically from the very beginning.

Today, employers continue to call on Pitt graduates for professional services—medicine, dentistry, nursing, legal counseling, and business. The Pitt diploma continues to be recognized, respected . . . and called upon.

The University of Pittsburgh has kept step with the city. Recently, Pitt reached an academic milestone, being elected a member of the Association of American Universities—an elite group of just over 50 universities. Pitt can be proud of this distinction, because it has met the major requirement for selection—academic excellence.

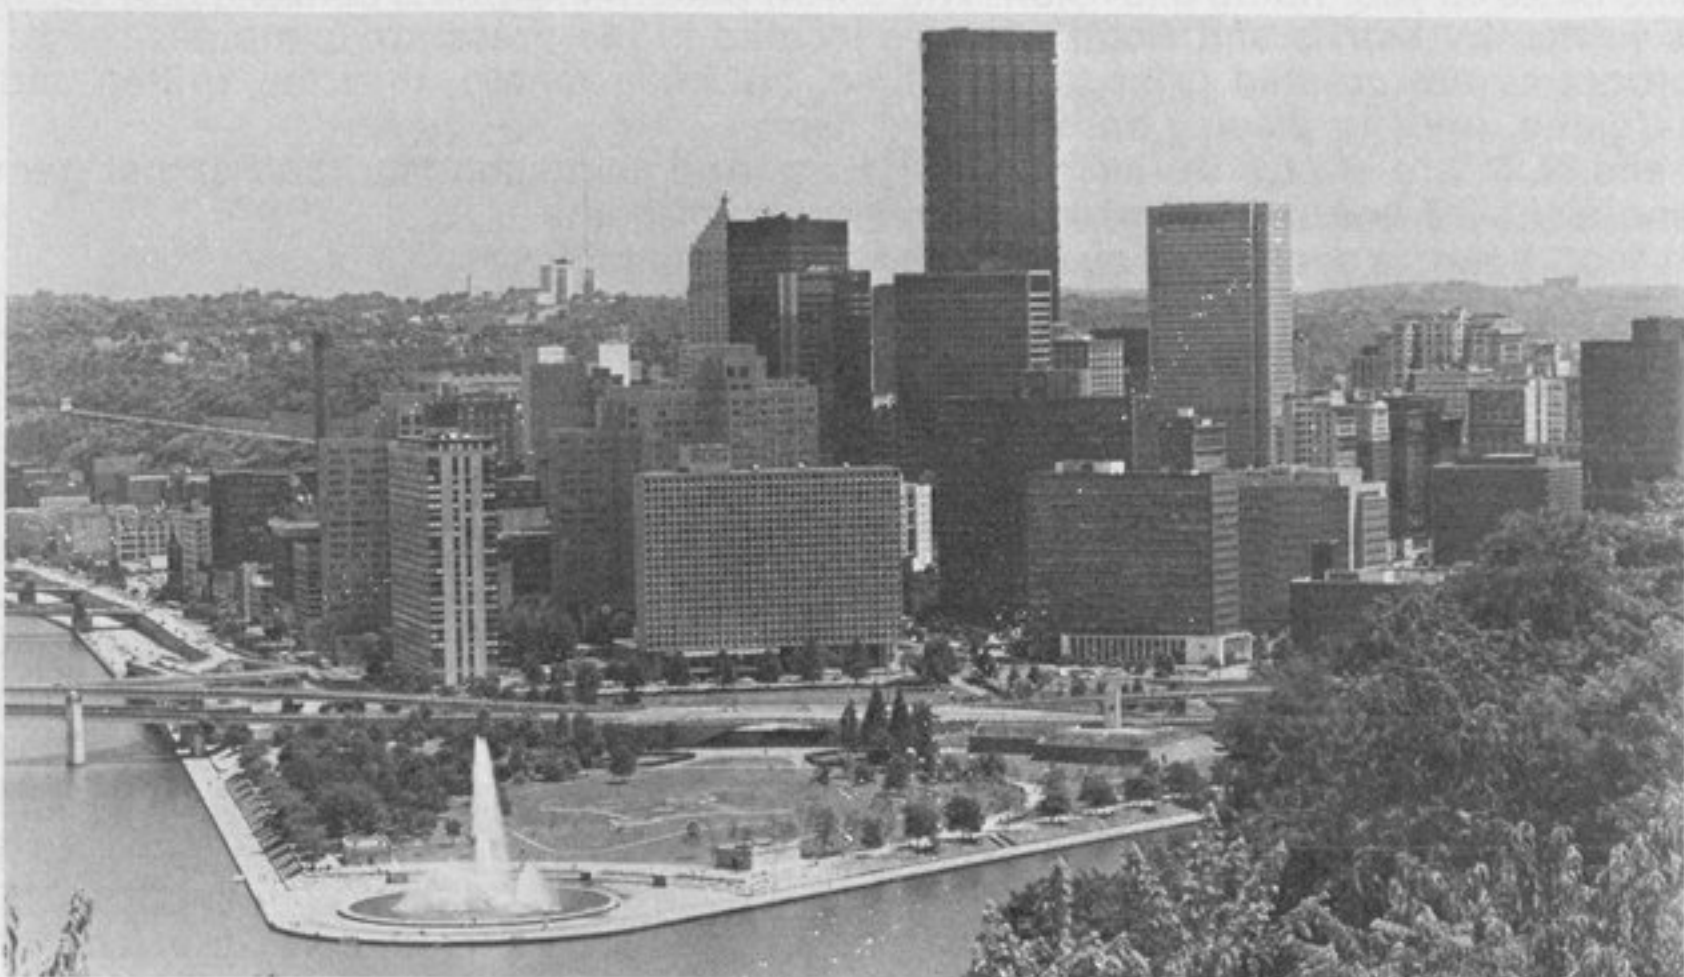

And, amazingly enough, Pitt is the second largest employer in the city with over 6,000 full-time staff members, including 2,100 full-time faculty members, 550 part-time faculty members and more than 1,500 part-time technical and professional personnel.

Pitt is a big-time University.

In 1819 Pittsburgh Academy became Western University of Pennsylvania, a one-building structure on Third Avenue and Cherry Street, Downtown.

In March 1921, Chancellor John G. Bowman told banker Richard B. Mellon, "The Cathedral of Learning is not a commonplace idea. But what is the future of Pittsburgh if it is to grow with commonplace ideas and commonplace loyalties?"

Mellon bought the thought and financed the building of the Cathedral of Learning, a 42-

The "Golden Triangle" in the "City of Champions"—where the Allegheny and Monongahela Rivers meet to form the Ohio River.

story Gothic skyscraper which serves as the centerpiece of the University's physical makeup.

In 1926, Bowman announced the building plan that today is The Cathedral of Learning.

"We want a building that is symbolic of education's higher aspirations—one that has eternal reach for both education and the entire community," Bowman proclaimed.

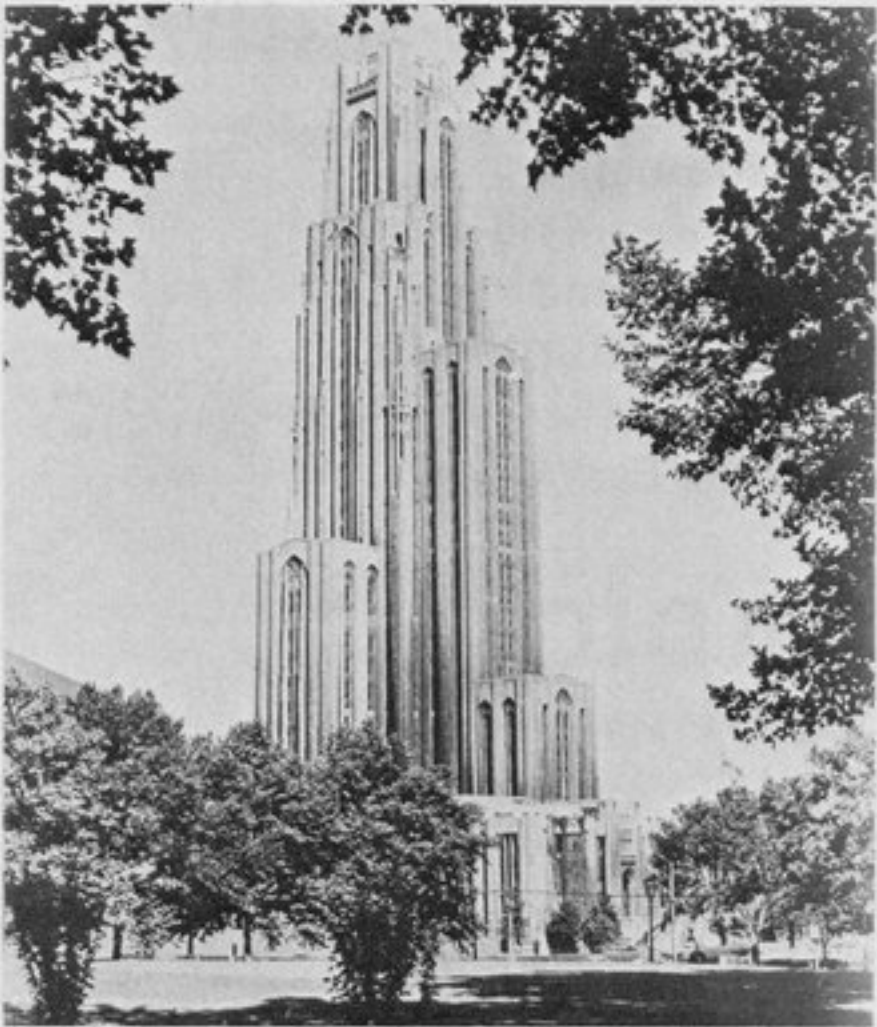

The Cathedral of Learning remains unique today, towering against the graceful Oakland skyline. It has fulfilled the prophecy Bowman first set forth back in 1926.

And it has continued to inspire. Philip Johnson, perhaps the most celebrated of contemporary architects, is centering the city's Renaissance II movement around the Gothic style of the Cathedral of Learning. Johnson calls the Cathedral "the greatest neo-Gothic structure in the country."

He is using the same medieval guild-house architectural flavor of the Cathedral in the building of the new Pittsburgh Plate Glass center in Downtown Pittsburgh.

All along, Pitt has perpetuated a long and illustrious sports tradition, too. Pitt ranks sixth in National football championships won—according to Sports Illustrated—with nine. It has placed many feathers in the city's sports cap through the years, feeding fuel to the city's front-running sports image. It has provided city sports fans with top-notch college football teams. As recently as four years ago, Pitt brought the football National Championship back to Pittsburgh.

But the University of Pittsburgh is an 'institute of higher learning' first, and undergraduates can take an active interest in varied fields of study. Pitt even has a self-designed major for specialization areas. Post-graduates and practicing professionals find a wealth of avenues to pursue higher quality education. The Health Professions schools—medical, dental, and pharmacy—are world-renowned. The law department ranks among the nation's best.

The University also serves as the city's cultural center. Within a 15-minute radius of the University there are six museums and art galleries, ten hospitals, and over a dozen other colleges and universities, not to mention one of the finest symphony orchestras in the country.

In a countryside setting of rolling hills, picturesque valleys, rivers and streams, both the City of Pittsburgh and the University of Pittsburgh continue to thrive as big-time institutions.

Panthers on Radio, TV

Pitt football will be beamed this Fall via both radio and television throughout Pennsylvania and across the East Coast.

RADIO: A professional, first-class two-man broadcasting team will call all the action for the Pitt football radio network, originating with WTAE (1250) in Pittsburgh. "Voice-of-the-Panthers" Bill Hillgrove, sports director of WTAE-TV in Pittsburgh, begins his seventh year as football play-by-play man. Hillgrove will again be joined by nationally known TV analyst, John Sauer, beginning his seventh year also. Hillgrove and Sauer team together to give Pitt one of the best college football broadcasting teams in the country. The games will be aired on an expanded network of over 30 stations.

ON THE AIR with the Panther Radio Network are the "Voice of the Pitt Panthers" Bill Hillgrove (left) and Johnny Sauer (right) who together give Pitt an outstanding radio broadcast team.

Also on radio this Fall, WTAE will expand its coverage to include a solid five hours of Pitt football from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. It will start with the pre-game shows at 1 p.m. and after the game continue with a unique post-game show until 6 p.m. The post-game show will include live locker room comments from players and coaches, a review session with Coach Jackie Sherrill, live spot reports from Pitt opponents across the country, college scoreboard update and a listener call-in portion.

TELEVISION: A totally revamped and expanded Pitt football show will be beamed to an audience of a potential 12 million homes this Fall. The half-hour show will be produced and marketed by TPC Communications Inc. of Pittsburgh, a rapidly expanding company considered by many to be the best independent production house in America. It will be a fast-paced half hour of game highlights, player profiles, Jackie Sherrill insights and comments and University documentaries. Flagship station for the show will be WTAE-TV in Pittsburgh which will carry the broadcast 12-12:30 p.m. Sundays.

Panther Support Staff

Alex Kramer

Administrative Assistant

Alex Kramer

As Administrative Assistant, Alex Kramer coordinates activities between Head Coach Jackie Sherrill and the Athletic Director's office.

Alex and his family have always been big Pitt fans, even though Alex was born and raised on the Bluff, when Duquesne was a national football power in the 1930's. Alex recalls his father taking him to the B&O Railroad Station to meet the 1937 National Championship team after its 10-0 win over Duke.

At the University of Pittsburgh, Kramer was a football manager from 1948-51 and during his tenure, he served four coaches: Mike Milligan, John Chikerneo, Len Casanova and Captain Hamilton. He was manager of the 1950 freshman team, a team that was the first Pitt frosh team to go undefeated.

As an undergraduate at Pitt, Alex roomed with Joe Schmidt, the former Panther great and pro football coach.

Alex joined the Pitt staff in July, 1978, to serve as Administrative Assistant for Coach Jackie Sherrill. This topped a long-time association in which Alex was active in alumni and Golden Panther affairs.

"Alex has given our staff plenty of flexibility and his administrative capabilities have eased my load," said Coach Jackie Sherrill. "He's been an outstanding administrator for 17 years. Alex is probably the most loyal and dedicated person working at Pitt. He has Pitt in his blood and his ties with people connected with the program are phenomenal."

Prior to joining the Pitt staff, Alex was director of curriculum in the Moon Area School District. He had been with the Moon Area Schools since 1956.

Personal Information: Date of Birth: 7/8/29. Hometown: Pittsburgh, PA. Alma Mater: Pitt '52—M.A. at Pitt '61. Married to the former Betty McCormick and father of Charles (22) and Michele (18).

Kevin Dickey

Recruiting Coordinator

Kevin Dickey

Kevin Dickey coordinates all recruiting for the Pitt athletic department. Kevin came to Pitt four years ago as a part-time assistant coach. He really impressed the Pitt staff; he could be seen paying his dues in the film room, burning the midnight oil there often.

Kevin was a fine quarterback at the College of Wooster, where he was a three-year letterman. Now, six years removed from the college classroom, Dickey has already held various positions at Pitt. He has been both an offensive and defensive football coach, film coach, pro-scout liaison, and most recently, coordinates the recruiting for the entire Panther program.

Coach Jackie Sherrill said: "In his two years here, Kevin has worked extremely hard. It has paid off for our program. He has a bright future in college football. If hard work is any indication, he will continue to do very well."

Coaching Experience: HIGH SCHOOL—Steubenville Big Red, 1975-76, Offensive Coordinator.

COLLEGE—Bowling Green State, 1974, Backs and Quarterbacks; Pitt 1977, Part-Time Assistant.

Administrative Experience: Pitt, 1978 to present, Coordinator of Recruiting.

Personal Information: Date of Birth: 10/8/51. Hometown: Ottawa, Ohio. Alma Mater: College of Wooster, 1974.

Charles "Buddy" Morris

Weight Training Coordinator

Charles "Buddy" Morris is a new addition this year to the Pitt staff as Weight Training Coordinator. Morris is to establish and implement a strength, flexibility and conditioning program for Pitt athletes.

A native of Pittsburgh, Morris attended Indiana State (Terre Haute) on a track scholarship but left there and came to Pitt after his freshman season. He was a member of the Panther track squad under Coach Mike Agostinella. He is a 1980 graduate of Pitt.

No stranger to the Pitt weight room, Morris has worked with Bob Jury, Jeff Delaney, and CMU's Gusty Sunseri, helping them develop strength and speed.

Morris has found that the key to motivating the players to work hard is working along side of them. "You have to look the part to sell the product," he said. "It takes hard work and a lot of time to develop your body properly. Occasional lifting doesn't work for the players' benefit. You have to be consistent."

A graduate of South Park (PA) High School, Morris will be married this September to former Pitt high jumper Karen Krichko.

Sports Information Director and Director of Public Relations

Dean Billick began his 15th year at Pitt this past summer. A native of Grove City, Pennsylvania, he earned a B.S. Degree in journalism from Penn State, where he was sports editor for the Daily Collegian.

He was a reporter for the Sharon Herald and the city editor for the Centre Daily Times before being named Sports Information Director at Bucknell for one year. In the summer of 1966 he was named SID at Pitt and headed a virtual one-man operation.

His publications at Pitt have won several national awards and the many student interns and assistants under his direction have gone on to successful careers in sports writing, public relations and professional sports publicity. In his years at Pitt he has been involved in six bowls, two national basketball tournaments, 11 first-team All-Americans, a Heisman Trophy winner and a football National Championship.

Dean is single and resides in the Highland Park area of Pittsburgh.

Joyce Aschenbrenner

Assistant Sports Information Director

Joyce Aschenbrenner began her seventh year on the Pitt staff last spring. She attended West Virginia University School of Journalism, and as an undergrad, worked as a student assistant in the WVU Sports Information Office under Dick Polen, before joining the Pitt staff in 1974.

Joyce has covered five football bowl games and the NIT with the Panthers and has served as publicity director for the 1979 AIAW National Swimming and Diving Championships, and Eastern Championships in basketball, swimming, gymnastics, volleyball and track and field. She has won three CoSIDA awards including "Best in the Nation" for the 1977 Pitt Women's Brochure.

Joyce is single and resides in Brentwood Boro.

Assistant Sports Information Director for Promotions and Ticket Sales

Kimball Smith is in his fourth year at Pitt.

A 1975 graduate of Cornell University, Kim continued his education at the University of Massachusetts where he earned a master's degree in athletic administration in 1976. He worked in the sports information offices at both Cornell and U. Mass before coming to Pitt as a graduate intern in the fall of 1976. He was hired in his present capacity in the spring of 1977.

Kimball's duties include the coordination of promotions and ticket sales for both football and basketball along with assisting in the general operation of the sports information office.

Kim is married to the former Nancy Rees; they have a daughter, Kelly Jean. The Smith Family resides in Penn Hills.
